

Water Ban Planned On Monday

By A. H. MURPHY

If there is no rain before Monday, a six-day-a-week ban on lawn sprinklers will be imposed in Victoria. Forecasters Thursday night offered no early promise of rain, although a trace fell in parts of Greater Victoria earlier in the afternoon.

British Post Seized

HONG KONG (Reuters) — Hong Kong's border with China was closed today except for one crossing point after Chinese workers occupied one of the British colony's police border posts overnight. It was announced here.

The announcement said the Chinese held a government officer, a British army officer and several policemen in the Mian Kam To post for most of the night, but the situation was resolved without bloodshed.

CHINESE SIDE

A group of workers from the Chinese side of the border broke into the remote police post at midnight Thursday night and smashed weapons from British soldiers, a spokesman here said.

The district officer was forced to sign a document as a man stood over him with an axe and another officer had a knife at his back, he said.

The army officer had a pistol aimed at him, he said.

NO BLOODSHED

But the spokesman said the critical situation at the border post was resolved without bloodshed and the seized weapons were handed back early this morning.

A large force of British troops surrounded the area

Australia Checks Canada's Bid

Canada's run at taking the fourth Commonwealth golf tournament faltered at the Victoria Golf Club Thursday when Australia was beaten by New Zealand.

The Australians won by five matches to four to record their first victory in three days. (See also Page 14.)

New Zealand and Great Britain are tied for the lead with three points from a win and a draw. New Zealand defeated South Africa, 5-4, in Thursday's other match.

Canada has won points with a win and a loss, the same record as South Africa. Australia has two points from one win and three losses.

The Canadians had an uphill struggle after they dropped two of the three Scotch foursomes. That meant they had to win four of the six singles—they won three.

Varnish Toll Passes 100 In Madras

MADRAS (Reuters) — The death toll from a varnish-drinking spree in the prohibitionist Indian state of Madras grew to 101 Thursday.

Officials said the dead were from among 450 persons admitted to hospitals with their lungs paralyzed by the varnish in bootleg liquor.

Operating engineers will walk off their jobs at 8 a.m. Monday at St. Joseph's Hospital unless progress is made today toward a settlement of their dispute, a union official said Thursday night.

Ed Callan, international representative of the International Union of Operating Engineers, said strike action hinges on the outcome of a conciliation meeting today in Vancouver.

Labor Minister Peterson Thursday stalled a scheduled strike at St. Paul's Hospital in Vancouver this morning by appointing Jack Sherlock of the labor department to conciliate in the hospitals' dispute.

BOTH SIDES

Mr. Sherlock is meeting both sides in an effort to avert the spread of a power plant strike which hit Royal Columbian Hospital in New Westminster two days ago.

"If there is no settlement following the meeting there will be a strike on St. Paul's Hospital forthwith," Mr. Callan said.

Mr. Callan brushed aside various warnings and pleas by government and medical agencies involved in the dispute.

WARNING COMMENT

"B.C. Hospitals' Association should take note," he said of a warning from the labor minister that both the union and hospitals reach a speedy solution or face legislative action at the next session of the legislature, which begins in January.

To a plea from the Victoria Medical Society Wednesday night that operating engineers give assurances that "emergency service will not cease," Mr. Callan replied:

"Everything in a hospital is emergency. We might as well say we'll never strike as say we'll offer emergency service."

SINCE OCTOBER

To a suggestion by a Victoria alderman that the union's strike methods corresponded to "taking a cane from a blind man," Mr. Callan retorted:

"He is speaking without knowledge of the situation."

Mr. Callan said his union has been trying since October to get parity between the rates of third class engineers in the larger hospitals in the province.

BCHA BLAMED

He blamed BCHA negotiation attitudes for the dispute.

"If the hospitals were able to negotiate on their own terms, there would be no dispute," he said.

He said both Royal Jubilee Hospital in Victoria and Prince George General Hospital had

Biafrans Drive To West

LAGOS (Reuters) — Biafran forces, now controlling Nigeria's Midwestern Region after a lightning takeover, were moving towards the boundary of the Western Region, reports reaching here said Thursday.

Meanwhile federal reinforcements were reported preparing to try to stem the thrust by the troops from the breakaway former Eastern Region.

A federal spokesman conceded Thursday that Midwestern army mutineers and Biafran

Latins Call For Revolt

HAVANA (Reuters) — The Latin American Solidarity Conference moved into its final stages in Cuba Thursday night with renewed calls for Vietnam-type guerrilla warfare and a call to U.S. Negroes to use direct revolutionary action.

Conference sources said it was decided to keep secret the text of a controversial resolution condemning the Soviet Union for entering into credit, technical and cultural relations with "dictatorships" and "oligarchies" in Latin America.

THIS VERDICT

Many observers consider this resolution the most far-reaching of the conference, hardening the split between Latin American revolutionaries who look towards Cuba and the orthodox Communists oriented towards Moscow.

Observers believed it was the decision not to publish this resolution that prevented a threatened walkout by the more traditional Communists, who fought it bitterly.

The resolution of support for U.S. Negroes proclaimed Aug. 10, anniversary of the Los Angeles Watts riots of 1965, as a day of solidarity with American Negroes.

The resolution said that, on that day, Negroes "replaced peaceful forms of protest with violent, armed demonstrations against imperialist aggression and discrimination."

BLACK POWER

It also praised the American Black Power movement and accused the U.S. government of using Negroes as cannon fodder in imperialist wars such as the Vietnam conflict.

American Black Power advocate Stokely Carmichael was an honorary delegate to the conference.

Anguilla Ready to Repel 'Invaders'

ANGUILLA, Leeward Islands (UPI) — The 210-man "defence board" of this tiny Caribbean island deployed at sundown Thursday to repel a landing force of peacekeepers organized by the British government. The defenders were armed with automatic weapons.

In London, a spokesman for the British Commonwealth office said the dispatch of the 40-man peacekeeping force had been delayed and would not reach Anguilla before Monday.

The news from London apparently had not reached Anguilla.

Leaders of the Anguillian independence movement said they were confident they could repel any landing. Ronald Webster, president of Anguilla's governing council, said the defenders had just received a shipment of 88 automatic weapons. He did not say where the weapons came from.

"All members of the island's defence force have firearms of one sort or another," Webster said.

The force was to have arrived at Anguilla Thursday aboard the 2,300-ton British frigate Lynx.

The spokesman said Thursday night the ship, which was to have left Antigua today for the 100-mile voyage to Anguilla, would not leave "until Monday at the earliest."

Reports from the island said its 6,000 inhabitants would resist by force any attempts to end Anguilla's secession from the island federation of Nevis-St. Kitts.

The peacekeeping force consists of policemen from Barbados, Trinidad, Jamaica, Guyana and Tobago.

British Crime Bearing Fruit

Koreans Kill Three GIs

SEOUL (UPI) — North Korean troops Thursday ambushed a U.S. Army truck loaded with troops south of the Korean truce front, killing three GIs and wounding 17 other United Nations command personnel.

China Will Sell Tibetan Goats

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — China is to sell by barter 10,000 Tibetan goats for religious sacrifices in various Hindu temples here during the Dasara festival in October, reliable sources said. Peking in return will receive Nepalese jute sacks, the sources said.

Candidates Swap Sides

Vietnam Vote Takes New Twist

SARON (AP) — Most of South Vietnam's civilian presidential election candidates are reported discussing the possibility of pulling out of the race and rallying behind former premier Tran Van Huong.

Informal sources said Thursday the pullout would be accompanied by a public denunciation of the government of Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, running as a military team in the Sept. 3 election.

HARASSMENT

They said Thieu and Ky would be charged with everything from police harassment of representatives of the civilian candidates to sabotage of the election process.

Meanwhile, South Vietnamese police sources reported the arrest of 23 Viet Cong terrorists, seizure of several arms caches and the breaking up of elaborate plans to spread death and destruction in Saigon before the election.

Captured Communist documents revealed orders intended to disrupt the elections.

BOYCOTT ANNOUNCED

Seven of the 10 civilian candidates earlier announced they are ignoring the government's offer of free transportation to the provinces. They had called off a trip last Sunday in Quang Tri, charging arrangements made by the government for the campaigning were inadequate.

With backing of the armed forces, the Thieu-Ky ticket is considered to have the best chance of winning. Even if rivals back Huong, most political analysts consider it is doubtful Thieu would lose.

Nation's Capital Effectively Cut Off from Southern China

Mao's Enemies on Offensive from Firm Base

By ROBERT S. ELEGANT
from Hong Kong

The anti-Maoist alliance in China has now established a firm geographical base and is moving from the defensive to the offensive.

The Maoist capital of Peking is cut off from direct land communication with much of the great south of the country. The Maoists themselves have been reduced to a point of desperation where they can only exhort their followers to look to better days and, in their disciplined ardor, await the "inevitable" victory which will be theirs because they move with the "wheel of history."

The resolution of the power struggle in China probably will still take much time, since the anti-Maoists are just beginning to establish the firm bases from which their alliance of disaffected military commanders throughout the country could strike for victory. But the tenor of the entire struggle has changed with the anti-Maoist's transition from the defensive to the offensive.

The province of Honan, with its 55,000,000 inhabitants just south of Peking, the province in which Peking is located, was conceded administratively by the Maoists to the anti-Maoists two months ago. Honan, diplomatic reports have just made clear, has now become a military base for the anti-Maoist forces.

Private reports from Peking have revealed that Hsieh Fu Chih, minister of security and vice premier, has told a secret Red Guard meeting that the anti-Maoist generals of Wuhan have withdrawn the core of their military forces into Honan. Hsieh himself was briefly held captive in Wuhan by the local military and political leaders in the first full-scale anti-Maoist manifestation openly admitted by the Maoists.

The so-called Wuhan Incident occurred in mid-July. Since that time, the tri-city industrial area called Wuhan on the Yangtze River has been the scene of constant fighting between the two factions. However, Thursday's revelation that the anti-Maoists had found a firm geographical stronghold in Honan was the first firm report that the anti-Maoists possessed a secure military base for their operations as well as the support of the majority of the Chinese people which the Maoists have already conceded to them in public.

The loss of Honan was announced last June 5. At that time the Maoists admitted that their enemies had not only driven them from positions of power, but also exercised reasonably orderly administration over the vital province.

Security minister Hsieh's additional admission that the Maoists could not move troops from their presumed stronghold of Peking to Wuhan through Honan province casts additional light on the desperate position in which the Maoists find themselves. Honan province in the hands of the opposition virtually blockades Peking from South China.

Since all major communications lines run through that province, the Maoist faction is now isolated from the majority of the country. The anti-Maoists' consolidation of their position in Honan means that the country is being divided into a Maoist strip of provinces in North China and Manchuria and a broad anti-Maoist belt of provinces all the way to the southern borders of the country.

Although it will take some time for local military commanders to get up the courage to open anti-Maoist action like that taken at Wuhan, the fate of the Maoists is now almost beyond redemption.

The battle between the two organized factions is being fought out against a background of almost total violence throughout China — and widespread disruption of

Explanations But No Changes, Retractions

De Gaulle Defensive But Stubborn

By GEORGE SIFERA, from Paris

President de Gaulle served noticed yesterday he will carry on his singlehanded policy of French "grandeur" no matter how much it may disrupt the fabric of France's traditional alliances.

In a nationwide television and radio address, however, he indicated for the first time he is worried by the rising chorus of criticism he has stirred at home and abroad by his controversial policy moves.

De Gaulle spent most of his time on the TV screen in an unusual role—defending his policies item by item and admitting that many Frenchmen have doubts about the wisdom of some of his decisions.

After living for nine years and two months under de Gaulle's regime Frenchmen have become used to his spreadeagle oratory exuding optimism even in the darkest days of the Algerian war.

Last night millions of French television viewers saw the picture of a man intensely preoccupied by the impact of his policies but stubbornly convinced he was right.

They saw a man who appeared to be on the defensive, perhaps for the first time in his long political career, a politician anxious to retain every Gaullist vote.

President de Gaulle, in characteristic pose, faces camera at Elysee Palace in Paris whilst recording address to French people, which was later broadcast by radio and television. During address, de Gaulle again called Quebecois "Frenchmen of Canada."

Nigeria Events Unpleasant Surprise

Lagos, London Embarrassed

By HAROLD MORRISON
From London

The war in Nigeria has taken an embarrassing turn, not only for the federal government in Lagos but for the British government in London as well.

When Nigeria's Eastern Region broke away from the federation and declared itself the Republic of Biafra, London announced a hands-off policy. The experts concluded that Maj.-Gen. Yakubu Gowon, the federal leader in Lagos, would make short work of the secessionists.

Now the British Commonwealth office has acknowledged it allowed a shipment of arms to be sent to Lagos while banning arms to Biafra. Officials maintain Britain has always supplied arms to Nigeria and to cut off shipments suddenly would be tantamount to neutrality in favor of the secessionists.

Of course, the Biafrans don't see it that way, and disclosure of the British shipment goes down hard among the rebels who nevertheless show no signs of giving up.

Contrary to all expectations the little Biafran army has broken out of a siege, outflanked Gowon's better-equipped forces and advanced to capture towns in the neighboring Midwestern region.

These gains are impressive and likely will be a moral booster for Biafran leader Lt.-Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu who declared himself ready to die rather than continue under control of northern tribes who dominate Lagos.

These gains are, however, unlikely to lead to a decisive battleground decision. But no quick military settlement is likely now and the Nigerian government faces greater embarrassment and trouble than it anticipated.

Britain is rapidly reaching the conclusion that action by Nigerian federal forces against Biafra to end the revolt is becoming ridiculous and useless.

Mediation appears the only possible approach. But if the Biafrans were suspicious of Britain's position in the past, the shipment of arms to Lagos now will make them doubly so. Mediation will have to come from some quarter other than Britain.

British officials feel the Commonwealth secretariat, headed by Canada's Arnold Smith, could play a useful role even though Smith's previous approaches are reported to have been rejected by both sides.

The view in London is that Smith should attempt another mediation approach, this time accompanied by some highly-respected elder statesman of Africa.

Biafra has minerals essential for the prosperity of the rest of Nigeria. If Gowon

World's Confidence Sought by Hong Kong

By FORREST EDWARDS
from Hong Kong

After three months of Communist-instigated violence, labor strife and terrorism, this British colony bordering China finds itself in the position of the schoolboy who figures he has learned how to stand off the school bully but is worried that the rest of the school does not recognize his ability.

It expects more trouble from its local Communists but — barring major intervention by China, which no one here believes will happen — Hong Kong is confident it can handle the trouble when it comes.

Hong Kong's problem is not to restore its confidence but to restore the confidence of the rest of the world in the colony's ability to keep its house in order — to keep factories going, to fill on time the orders for the products they make and to get them to world markets.

Hong Kong must manufacture and export to exist.

As August began, Hong Kong had won every round in the anti-British demonstrations that the colony's pro-Communist Chinese started May 11.

Terrorists failed to stop or even materially slow down the colony's industry.

In June, for example, exports of Hong Kong products hit $94,900,000 — 22 per cent higher than June 1966.

Despite strike attempts, textile mills and clothing factories worked at near capacity throughout May, June and July.

Tourism worth $160,000,000 to $170,000,000 a year, took a slump right after the riots first hit in May.

Elsewhere in the colony's economic picture, things are not bright. Construction work has been at least temporarily stopped on a number of buildings and there have been few new building starts.

Some capital — most of it controlled by Chinese who seem to be more jittery about Hong Kong's future than foreign investors — has fled to Singapore, Malaysia, Formosa and the Philippines.

Hong Kong government economists cite bank statistics to show that this is no more than $50,000,000 to $60,000,000. Bankers and investment brokers privately put it at $100,000,000 to $120,000,000.

Quoted value of shares on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange has dropped one-third since mid-May — down $170,000,000 from the pre-May riot value of about $500,000,000.

He again condemned Israel and criticized United States policy in Vietnam.

But his attacks on both were less outspoken than his recent charges the United States was dragging the world into a new global conflict.

De Gaulle cast France in the role of defender of the cause of the downtrodden peoples still awaiting their emancipation.

He hotly defended his "Long Live Free Quebec" declarations which prompted the cancellation of his visit to Ottawa last month and again called the French-speaking Quebecois "Frenchmen of Canada."

He had only scorn for his critics, calling them variously "a school of national abandon," "disciples of disparagement," "apostles of decline" or "faithful of Atlantic obedience."

Many observers took de Gaulle's harsh attack on his critics as the opening salvo in the campaign for the Sept. 26-Oct. 1 local elections.

Eleven Perish In Rail Crash

ODENSE, Denmark (AP)—Eleven persons were killed Thursday when a speeding passenger train smashed into the rear of another passenger train which had stopped on an overpass near here to cope with a small fire aboard.

Police said at least 33 persons, including one Canadian, were injured.

The Canadian was identified as Cresten Green, 68. His hometown was not immediately known.

CENTRAL ISLAND

The crash, on Denmark's central island of Funen, was the nation's worst rail disaster in more than 50 years.

Rescue workers crawled carefully over the maze of twisted steel, searching for survivors, but their efforts were slowed down by hundreds of gallons of spilled diesel oil, which made use of blowtorches dangerous.

Danish state railway officials said both trains were headed east toward Copenhagen over a modernized stretch of line that was the pride of the railway system.

FIRST TRAIN

They said the first train stopped a few minutes before the mid-morning crash because of a minor fire in its electrical system and the second train, travelling about 70 miles an hour, apparently was not notified in time.

The engineer of the second train, C. A. Larsen, told reporters he had just rounded a bend and was terrified to see "something red" a few hundred yards in front of him.

"I pulled all the brakes and ran back to hide behind one of the engine blocks," he said. "That saved my life because, a few seconds later, my train hit the other one."

Ferries Deny Hiring Claim

Canadians are not being demoted by B.C. Ferry Authority to make room for recently hired British officers as charged by the Canadian Merchant Service Guild, a government official said Thursday.

The civil service commission said nothing was demoted. Guild national president Robert Cook said a protest had been sent to the immigration and manpower department to stop such practices.

The dispute appeared to revolve around nine marine engineers hired in Britain about two months ago for the authority.

Government officials insisted the men were hired to fill vacancies, after every effort to obtain qualified Canadians had failed.

Mr. Cook said the ferry authority was tapping the British market to supply its officer needs, in preference to Canadian incumbents.

He also said the guild protested the actions of the ferry authority "using the immigration department to cause abuse and unjust treatment to native-born citizens of Canada."

Arthur Musgrave, MBE

Aerial Map Pioneer Died Wednesday, 77

Former Oak Bay municipal engineer Arthur Musgrave, MBE, died in Richmond Heights Hospital Wednesday at 77.

Mr. Musgrave, MBE, is the man who made British Columbia's first aerial photographic map.

SAANICH SURVEY
After the First World War, in which he served with the Royal Engineers in France and Palestine, he hired an aircraft and set out to photograph property in east Saanich.

The B.C. government paid him $75 for the job—although he paid $50 for the plane and $35 for an assistant—and then decided it wasn't interested in aerial mapping, since it was too expensive.

But in later years B.C. came to lead the field in aerial mapping.

Born in Cork, Ireland, Mr. Musgrave was president of the Pacific Northwest Section, American Waterworks Association; chairman of the Vancouver Island section, Engineering Institute of Canada; and president of the Municipal Engineers Association of B.C.

BURIAL SATURDAY
He is survived by his wife, Olive; his daughter Cynthia; Mrs. Arthur Izard, of Sidney; one granddaughter and two grandsons.

Funeral services will be held in Christ Church Cathedral at 11:30 a.m. Saturday, with Dean Brian Whitlow and Canon S. J. Wickens officiating.

15 Win Outright in Mississippi

Negroes Add to Gains

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—Mississippi Negroes, scoring their greatest successes at the polls since reconstruction, continued to add to their unprecedented gains Thursday with at least 15 candidates winning outright election to county level offices.

Seattle Smog Worst So Far

SEATTLE (CP)—Smog in Seattle Thursday afternoon was described by the state health department as the worst since monitoring started in 1964.

Robert Stockman, head of the department's air quality control section, said the measure was .35 parts per million of contaminants. He said readings of .15 parts per million are considered on the threshold of eye irritation in southern California.

Another 22 Negro candidates pulled enough vote in Tuesday's Democratic primary to put them in the Aug. 29 second primary with whites. Negroes either won office or advanced to runoff in nine counties.

A total of about 65 Negroes were running for various offices in the first primary Tuesday with an estimated 50 others qualifying to run as independents in the November general election.

All of the five Negroes who ran for legislative posts were defeated, with Dr. Jacob Reddix narrowly missing a runoff with incumbent state Rep. Horace Lester from Hinds County. Final unofficial returns showed Lester with 24,774 votes to 16,382 for Reddix and 8,312 for another white candidate, A. P. Andrews.

Reddix is former president of Jackson State College.

The strongest gains by Negroes came in the predominately-Negro southwest Mississippi stronghold of state NAACP director Charles Evers.

Negroes elected three of their race to county board of supervisor posts in Claiborne, Jefferson and Wilkinson counties. In addition, five Negroes advanced to runoffs for supervisor with two in Wilkinson, and one each in Coahoma, Madison and Marshall counties.

Four Negroes moved into runoffs for sheriff in Claiborne, Jefferson, Wilkinson and Marshall counties.

Jefferson had two Negroes elected justices of the peace with four other justices also elected in Marshall, Coahoma, Claiborne and Adams counties. Four Negroes won election as constables in Adams, Claiborne, Jefferson and Marshall counties.

Girls Found in Watts After Sexual Killing

LOS ANGELES (LAT)—The bodies of two little sisters, missing overnight from their suburban Alhambra home, were found Thursday morning in a weed-choked lot in Watts.

Detectives said Roberta Ann Barill, 6, and Cecilia Renee Barill, 7, apparently had been sexually molested and strangled.

"There was certainly no racial implication whatsoever in the fact that the bodies were found in Watts," said Sheriff's Sgt. Walt Thornton.

"It appears more likely to be the work of a sexual deviate." "They were dead when they were put here," said Lt. James Hamilton of Sheriff's Homicide,

Nurse Receives Martin Award

Starr

A 23-year-old Indian nurse who hopes to enter World Health Organization service was awarded $100 from the Mungo Martin Memorial Award Fund Thursday.

The award was made to Elva Starr, a student nurse at St. Joseph's Hospital School of Nursing, who graduates in early September.

Miss Starr, a member of the Haisla tribe of Kitimat Village, said she hopes to attend university to obtain a bachelor of science in nursing degree following her graduation from the hospital school.

Miss Starr's award was the third made by the fund. The others were made last March to Cleo August of Duncan for work in handicrafts, and Jean Galligan of Vancouver for undergraduate studies at UBC.

Awards are made from the interest of the Mungo Martin fund, raised by public subscription.

Bugging Report Turned In

The royal commission report on electronic eavesdropping in B.C. was presented by retired County Court Judge R. A. Sargent to the provincial government Thursday.

His findings were handed to Provincial Secretary Wesley Black, who said later he would take them to the provincial cabinet Monday.

Mr. Black said he didn't know when the report would be made public. Under the Public Inquiries Act, the government must make the report public within 15 days after the start of the next legislative session, which begins in January.

UNTIL FEBRUARY?
This means the government could, if it wished, keep Mr. Sargent's recommendations secret until next February.

The inquiry was first ordered Nov. 10, 1966, after an official of the Pulp and Paper Workers of Canada had been found dead five days earlier in his Vancouver hotel room. No blame was attached in his death, but investigators found bugging devices in the room.

Mr. Sargent was appointed commissioner to inquire into the invasion of privacy of Lloyd Craig, the dead man, and background leading to it. Subsequently, Mr. Craig's union obtained a court order halting the inquiry.

NEW ORDER
The government passed another order Jan. 3 setting up the inquiry with Mr. Sargent again acting as commissioner to conduct a broader investigation of the use of electronic listening devices in B.C.

Pat O'Neil, western organizer for the rival International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers, admitted hiring private detective Bud Graham to spy on the Canadian union's convention.

The inquiry also probed bugging devices in business, following disclosures that listening devices were used extensively by car dealers and other businesses.

Before the 57 days of hearings ended in June the royal commission heard more than 100,000 words of evidence from 80 witnesses.

$2,492,000 War Loss Estimated by Israel

Seminar Draws 20 Historians

Twenty Canadian historians from Quebec to Victoria will participate in the Canadian Historical Association's centennial seminar Aug. 20 to 25 at the University of Victoria.

Chairman of the event will be Dr. W. L. Morton of Trent University, Peterborough, Ont., a noted chronicler of the Canadian west.

Dr. Morton will be one of four special speakers. The others will be Prof. Morris Zaslow of the University of Western Ontario at London, Prof. George Rawlyk of Queen's University in Kingston, Ont., and Prof. R. C. Brown of the University of Toronto.

Remainder of the 20 will participate in daily discussions. Hosts, in behalf of the University of Victoria, will be Prof. Sydney Pettit, head of the department of history, and Patricia Roy, an instructor.

The seminar will not be open to the public.

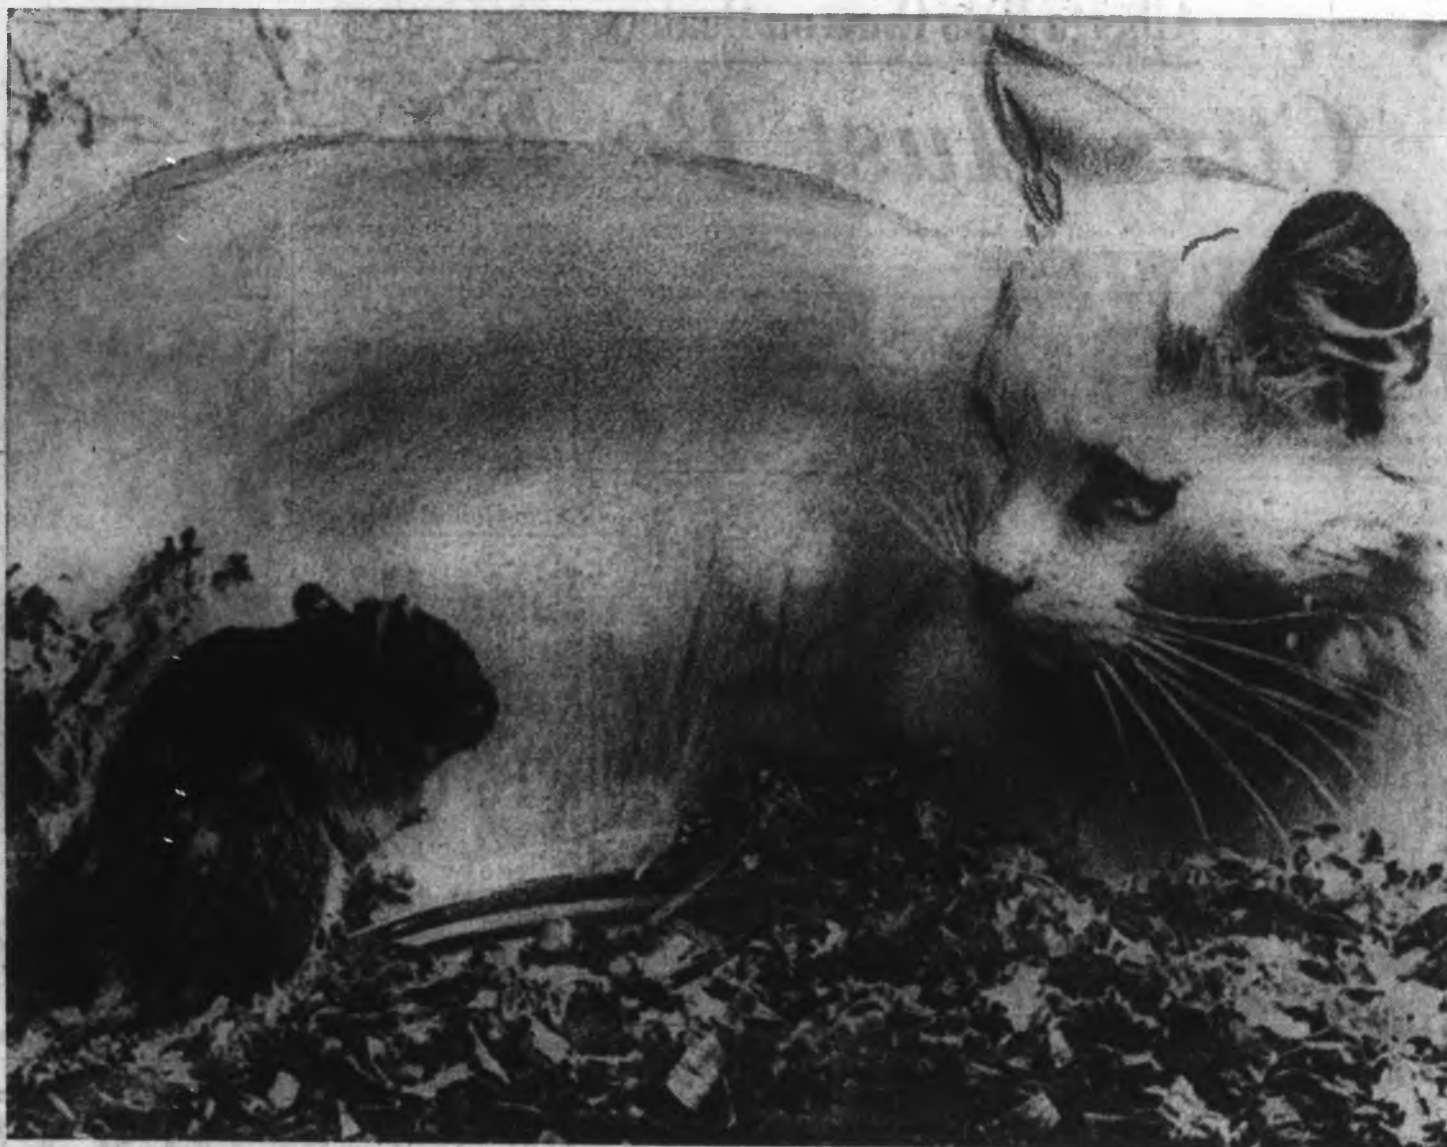

JERUSALEM (Reuters) — Israel suffered about $2,492,000 worth of war damage during the six-day conflict with its Arab neighbors in June, it was announced Thursday. Housing Minister Mordecai Bentov said most of the damage occurred in Jerusalem. More than 4,000 damage claims were filed and most of the repairs already have been made, he said.

MOSCOW (Reuters) — A team of 250 mountaineers from the Soviet Union, eastern Europe, Austria and Italy plans to drag a stainless-steel obelisk bearing a portrait of Lenin to the top of the 23,000-foot Lenin peak in the Pamir Mountains, the third highest peak in the U.S.S.R.

JAKARTA (Reuters) — Indonesia's acting president, Gen. Suharto, has approved the formation of a new Moslem political party, the first to be formed in the country in 10 years, party secretary Angus Sudono announced Thursday.

SINGAPORE (Reuters) — The government will introduce a bill in Parliament making abortion available on request for any woman at a cost of only five Singapore dollars (about $1.65), a government source said Thursday.

MANILA (Reuters) — A Philippines naval patrol Thursday reported catching six pirates in two motorized canoes, loaded with explosives and ammunition, after a chase across Manila Bay Wednesday.

Storm-Swept Light Receives Facelift

Workmen Thursday began rebuilding lighthouse facilities battered earlier this year by huge waves at Pine Island of northern Vancouver Island.

Before winter storms get in two houses and an engine house have to be erected where an engine house and storage tanks were swept away.

The houses will be built to replace one damaged and to accommodate an extra light-keeper who will supplement the present two keepers. Contractor on the $100,000 job is Johnson Construction Co. Ltd. of Vancouver.

Labor Book Soon

The story of labor in B.C. will be told in a book to be published next month by the B.C. Federation of Labor.

Written by a former University of Victoria professor, Dr. Paul Phillips, now research director of the federation, the 200-page soft-cover book will be published on the eve of Labor Day.

Publishers are the B.C. Federation of Labor and the B.C. Foundation of Vancouver. The book is the federation's centennial project.

Entitled No Power Greater: A Century of Labour in British Columbia, it will tell the story of labor from the middle of the 19th century until today.

The title is taken from the opening lines of a well-known union song, Solidarity Forever.

Included in the book are 24 pages of photographs and cartoons. A "good part" of the material in the book has never been published before, said Dr. Phillips.

A few hard-bound copies will be produced for libraries.

New Competition Popular, Praised

Popping Wine Cork Luxton Opener

A bottle of homemade wine popped its cork with a resounding pop Thursday to mark the opening of Luxton Fair.

The huckleberry wine had lost its head as it went on display in the first-ever wine-making competition at a country fair in B.C.

There were 32 entries in the new section of the home arts competition, which has received the special blessing of Attorney-General Bonner.

HIGH STANDARD
Stanley Anderson, the Vancouver expert who judged the wines, pronounced the local product of very high standard. Such brands as Hal's Hooch, Rhodes Royal and Jones Wine were judged on hue, bouquet, taste, originality of bottle and label design.

David Jones won the prize for the most outstanding entry.

MAN WINNER
For the second time, a man won first prize for a hand-made quilt.

John West, of Happy Valley Road, entering the fair for the third time with one of the 30 or so quilts he has made, took a first prize.

He won the same event two years ago.

A fair-goer for more than 35 years, Mrs. Sarah Blenkinsopp is spending the fair days in charge of the old, but admiring the new.

She is convener of the special centennial exhibits in one of the buildings.

A church pew which has survived from the first mission church built in Happy Valley, and a small portable organ stand cheek-by-jowl with a gun collection and an old-time buffalo gun.

NOT EXHIBITING
Mrs. Blenkinsopp isn't exhibiting in this year's fair for the first time in many years.

"My daughter had a baby, and my granddaughter got married, so I've been busy sewing," she said.

Her grandsons are following the family tradition, winning prizes in the juvenile division.

LOOK SO CUTE
Mrs. Blenkinsopp admired the four beauty queen contestants, one of whom will win the crown tonight.

"They're so confident — I wish I'd been born in this generation," she said. "They look so cute in their blouses and miniskirts."

Today will be 4-H day at the fair, with 125 entries — 50 more than last year.

BABY CONTEST
A 3 p.m. babies from two weeks to one-year old will compete for the Colonial Trophy.

There will be both Western and English competitions in a horse show.

Cross-Canada Project

Jails an Aid On Long Hike

Folksinger Hank Gallant, whose ambition is to be the first to hike from Victoria to Newfoundland, arrived in Montreal Wednesday.

In covering more than 3,000 miles, he has hiked through nine blizzards and freezing weather; has slept in jails and grain elevators; has lost 25 pounds and worn through seven sets of heels on his boots.

The 24-year-old vocational student left Victoria Feb. 6 with $28 and a 50-pound pack labeled "No rides please."

More than a month of his time has been taken by folksinging to help pay his way. Week-long stops were made at Lethbridge, Regina, Winnipeg, Sudbury and Ottawa.

HAS SMALL TENT
He averaged about 25 miles a day, sleeping sometimes in a small tent, sometimes a cheap hotel, or sometimes just bedded down near others along the route.

Next step is to complete the remaining 1,800 miles to his destination — Bonaville, N.S.

LESS DISTANCE
Previous cross-Canada walks have been between Halifax and Vancouver.

Hank, who set out from Beacon Hill Park early this year, hopes to arrive in Bonaville in December to complete his personal "feeling Canada" centennial project.

He expects it will take him two weeks to reach Newfoundland. He will hike south to Toronto, then east through Quebec and the Maritimes.

Aussie Golfers Hot, Cool Canada's Chances

By JIM TANG

An edge on the greens was the big factor yesterday as Australia, already almost certainly out of championship contention, prevented Canada from taking the lead in the Commonwealth Matches at the Victoria Golf Club by scoring a 5-4 victory.

It left Canada, Wednesday winner over South Africa, tied for third place with South Africa and Australia, who have lost two of the three matches they have played.

In front with three points from two matches are Great Britain and New Zealand.

On a day when a stiff south-westerly let golfers new to the Oak Bay links know just what was meant by the wind factor they had so often heard discussed, the Canadian team came up almost as cool as the spectators who had left their sweaters at home.

With the exception of Wayne Vollmer, new to international team competition, the Canadians lacked consistency and, as non-playing captain Phil Farley said, appeared to be playing defensively.

But the difference at the finish came on the greens, where the Canadians missed after Billings had canned a slightly longer putt.

With Cowan in a rather hopeless situation starting the back nine, the Canadians knew they had to win four of the five remaining singles.

Westlock, an eventual 4 and 3 winner, was ahead of Hartley by a comfortable margin and Johnston was leading Britten and Vollmer was ahead of Bulgin.

CRITICAL POINT

That meant as play reached the 13th green that either Alexander would have to beat Billings or Silverberg had to measure Bell if Canada was to get the two points, provided, of course, that Johnston and Vollmer held their leads.

Alexander, recent winner of the Alberta Open, made a great try to rally. He won the 16th, saved a half on the 15th with a long putt and on the 16th by getting his par four after putting his approach on the top of the bunker at the back of the green.

But the putt he missed on 13 kept pressure off Billings, who got another half at 17 to end it, 2 and 1.

That was it. Johnston and

Vollmer did win their matches and Silverberg lost although he did take a run at Bell to be only two down after 14.

AUSTRALIA v. CANADA 4
(Four-rounds)
Kevin Donohoe and Kevin Hartley defeated Gary Cowan and Keith Alexander, 3 and 2; Dennis Bell and Victor Bulgin defeated Nick Westlock and John Johnston, 1 up; Phil Billings and Bill Britten were defeated by Doug Silverberg and Wayne Vollmer, 3 and 2.

(Changes)
Donohoe defeated Cowan, 4 and 2; Hartley defeated Alexander, 4 and 2; Billings defeated Johnston, 2 and 1; Britten defeated Vollmer, 2 and 1; Silverberg defeated Bulgin, 3 and 2.

Long Putt and Ace Help Kiwis to Win

By BRIAN DOHERTY

Some strange things happened on the Victoria Golf Club course Thursday as New Zealand dumped South Africa by five matches to four.

It all began on the 18th green when chunky Ross Murray lined up a 33-foot birdie putt from the fringe.

He and John Durr were even with South Africans John Fourie and Rod Mullan and the other two four-rounders had ended with a win to each country.

NO GREAT PUTTER?
Now Murray doesn't rate himself as a great putter. But you wouldn't agree with him after the way the putt curled into the hole and the Kiwis had a vital win.

Then there was that venerable veteran, Stuart Jones. He was one down to South African Connie Du Toit after six holes and Du Toit, a superb iron player, dumped a four-iron three feet from the cup on the 22nd green.

Jones changed his clubs, taking a three-iron instead of a two iron and put his ball in the hole.

BOUNCED TWICE AND IN
It landed about 15 feet short of the pin, bounced twice and clattered in. Suddenly, Du Toit's head was gone and his birdie two was good for nothing.

Jones played a great shot on the 203-yard par-three 14th when he put a chip 10 inches from the cup after landing his tee shot near a trap.

Du Toit, meanwhile, was on in one. He putted long and had a three-footer coming back. As he was about to stroke the ball, a violent wind hit the green and Du Toit stepped away. He waited a couple of minutes and hit the ball. It missed and he was three down.

"I must have been fated not to get it," Du Toit said.

Jones won, 4 and 3, to finish two under par for 15 holes.

Murray thrashed Fourie, 6 and 5, in their singles clash. Fourie began poorly and on the 148-yard par three he landed in the trap. His shot out went over the green and his third missed the green and almost went back into the trap.

The fall of the day's match finally revolved around the game between Durr and South African champion Derek Kemp. Durr was two-up after nine holes, shooting the front nine in a three-under 30, but his putting touch left him on the second nine.

He missed a short putt on the 12th to drop one hole.

OUT OF BOUNDS

Kemp knocked his drive out of bounds on the 14th and Durr three-putted the 15th. That left Durr one up.

Kemp could have tied it on 16 but he blew a short putt. Then Durr clinched it on 17 with a short birdie putt.

Dave Symons had a hot putter going for him in his singles match against New Zealander Bruce Stevens.

Stevens missed several short putts but Symons, who won, 5 and 4, was two under par, earned a couple of long ones.

UNBEATEN IN SINGLES
Rod Mullan kept his unbeaten singles streak alive by downing New Zealander Geoff Clarke, one-up.

Hugh Bascchi won the sixth singles match when he beat Boris Vezich of New Zealand, 2 and 1.

RESULTS:
NEW ZEALAND v. SOUTH AFRICA 4
FOUR-ROUNDERS

Next Golf In Auckland

The next Commonwealth Golf tournament will be held in Auckland, New Zealand, in October, 1971, it was announced Thursday.

Bruce Forbes, co-chairman of the Commonwealth matches being played at the Victoria Golf Club this week, said the New Zealand golf council's invitation had been accepted by the captains of this year's teams.

It was now a matter of the decision being ratified by the various golf associations.

The matches will be played at the Auckland Golf Club's course, a par 71 layout covering 4,335 yards.

Boyer's Home Run Wins for Chisox

Veteran-infielder Ken Boyer

continued to earn his hefty salary for Chicago White Sox last night.

He delivered an eight-run home run which defeated Detroit's pressing Tiger line-up, the Sox' lead in the American League to two games and kept general manager Ed Short feeling he had made a real strike when he obtained

Boyer from New York Mets in a trade. Boyer hit a home run in the fourth inning, three games away and a half-game behind the Cubs ended Philadelphia Phillies' eight-game win streak when Glen Beckert singled in an eighth-inning run which broke a 2-2 tie.

St. Louis Cardinals, still a healthy seven-and-a-half games in front, were homered down by San Francisco Giants, 5-2, as Mike McCormick won his 15th game.

UBC Rowers Gain Final

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (CP)—A four crew without cox from the University of British Columbia gave Canada its first victory in the opening day heats of the first North American Rowing Championships Thursday.

The crew of Rick Fearn, Andy Neupsky, Phil Webber and Stroke Bruce Clark finished several boat lengths ahead of Switzerland and Sweden.

The Canadians' time was 7:11.78 and qualified them for the grand finals Sunday.

The crew finished second to the U.S. in the Pan-American Games at Winnipeg last week.

The Canadian crew was especially happy because of the victory against the Swiss crew, generally considered the best in the world.

DANES SHUT OUT

Danish crews, which won every heat in which they were entered Thursday morning, were shut out in the six afternoon heats.

The Danes had qualified crews in the four with cox, pairs with cox and single sculls in the morning. They lost in heats of the pairs with cox and four without cox in the afternoon and did not enter a crew in the eighth event.

OTHER QUALIFIERS

Other crews qualifying for a berth in Sunday's finals were Switzerland in the single sculls, the U.S. in the pairs without cox, Australia in the fours with cox, the U.S. in the eights, New Zealand in the eights, Germany in the fours without cox, The Netherlands in the pairs with cox and Italy in the pairs with cox.

The most exciting race of the day was between New Zealand and Germany in the first heat of the eights. The German team chased the New Zealanders to the wire, but were unable to catch them.

New Zealand covered the 2,000 metres in 6:30.24, with the Germans less than two seconds behind.

Long Gone

They don't call Edmonton Eaks' Jim Thomas "Long Gone" for nothing. Thomas camped for two touchdowns Wednesday against Ottawa in a losing cause and vaulted into a four-way tie for first place in the CFL scoring race. Thomas, Ken Nielsen of Winnipeg, and Lovell Coleman and Terry Evanshen, both of Calgary have 12 points each.

A's Recall Rodriguez

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Kansas City Athletics Thursday recalled Roberto Rodriguez, a right-handed pitcher, from the Vancouver club of the Pacific Coast League Thursday.

The 24-year-old Rodriguez from Caracas, Venezuela, went from the As to Vancouver last May. He compiled a 12-14 record with an ERA of 2.58. He will join the club here tonight.

At the same time the Athletics asked waivers on pitcher Jack Sanford, 35-year-old hurler obtained from California Angels in a trade for outfielder Roger Repoz.

To Defend Title

LONDON (Reuters)—Henry Cooper will defend his British and British Empire heavyweight boxing titles against Billy Walker, probably in London Nov. 7. It was announced Thursday.

Lions Apply for Camp At Royal Roads Again

B.C. Lions want to return to the Canadian Services College at Royal Roads.

The Canadian Football League club, which had its 1967 training camp at Royal Roads, has made an official request for the use of facilities for next year's training camp.

"The management, executive, coaching staff and players of our team unanimously agree that the facility—from both an aesthetic and working point of view—was the best we ever had," general manager Denny Vetch of the Lions wrote in a letter to the Royal Roads commandant, Group-Captain D. B. Wurtele.

"Maintenance and lining of the playing fields, preparation of meals, the cleanliness of our locker rooms and sleeping accommodations, the excellent press facilities—all of these jobs done by your staff, and done well—helped establish the business-like yet comfortable tone of our camp.

"I understand that applications to use the academy as a training camp must be made on a year-to-year basis. Therefore please consider this as the B.C. Lions' request to use your fine facility as a training camp site in 1968."

Downpour Disrupts Second Test Match

Doug Rogers' Judo Quest Unsuccessful

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—A Japanese and a Dutchman emerged victors Thursday in two divisions of the fifth world judo championships.

Nobuyuki Sato of Japan won the light-heavyweight title by defeating Osamu Sato, also of Japan.

Wilhelm Rusk of The Netherlands, current European champion, beat Nobuyuki Maehima of Japan for the heavy-weight championship.

Gilles Champagnie of Montreal defeated Jose Bernier of Puerto Rico in the light-heavyweight division's first round, but lost to Peter Hermann of West Germany in the second round.

Colin Maciver of Britain defeated Michael Johnson of Hamilton, Ont., in the first round.

No Canadians made the second round of the heavyweight division. Nicholas Bayendal of Toronto lost to Takeshita Masakazu of Japan and Douglas Rogers of Vancouver lost to Nobuyuki Maehima, also of Japan.

On Disabled List

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Tigers pitcher Johnny Podres has been placed on the disabled list for three weeks because of tendinitis in his left elbow, it was announced Thursday.

NOTTINGHAM (Reuters)—A torrential thunderstorm which had the Trent Bridge ground awash within minutes allowed only 4½ hours play Thursday when the second Test between England and Pakistan began here.

When the players went off shortly after tea England had made four without loss in reply to Pakistan's first innings of 140.

FIERY BOWLING

Pakistan's batting collapsed on an easy-paced pitch against fiery and hostile fast bowling from Ken Higgs and Geoff Arnold.

Higgs finished with four for 35 and Arnold, on his Test debut, took three for 35. Wicket-keeper Alan Knott, the second new cap in the England side, held three good catches.

Saeed Ahmed with a streaky 44 in 50 minutes, helped by seven fours, was Pakistan's top scorer in a disappointing performance by the team.

Close-of-play scores in Thursday's cricket matches:

Derbyshire 285; Surrey 280 for 7.

Southampton 280; Warwickshire 234.

Leicestershire 282; Middlesex 281.

Gloucestershire 157; Worcestershire 181.

Worcestershire 180; Nottinghamshire 181.

Leicestershire 187; Hampshire 88.

Baxter Leads Golf Classic

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Ben Baxter Jr., who has only one tournament victory in his 10 years as a pro, conquered treacherous winds Thursday to shoot a blazing 34-32-86 and take the first-round lead in the $100,000 American Golf Classic.

While his more illustrious opponents were struggling over the 7,180-yard Firestone Country Club course, playing longer than usual because of a brisk north wind and recent rains, Baxter dropped six birdie putts, including a pair of 40-footers on successive holes.

The 31-year-old Texan, surprised at his own showing, needed only 28 putts and missed only one to tie the course record by one stroke.

His brilliant round put him three strokes ahead of the field, of which only five others managed to crack par of 35-35-70.

Bunched at 69 were George

Archer 35-34, Billy Martingale 36-33, Jack McGowan 34-35, Bill Collins 36-33 and Randy Glover 36-33.

U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer matched par with 70s.

George Knudson of Toronto had a 71.

Garden Notes

Blind Leads Blind

By M. V. CHESNUT

Along about this time of year, I usually find myself unwittingly running a sort of medical clinic for sick plants, and this year is no exception. Over the past couple of weeks I must have received 50 or more specimens from readers worrying themselves sick over the condition of some pet tree or shrub, or even an ailing houseplant.

It is flattering to be regarded as a healer of sick plants, but the truth of the matter is I have had no training at all in plant pathology—I am just a backyard gardener, and a rather amateurish one at that. I don't have any laboratory facilities for making a diagnosis, and the only microscope I possess is from a child's hobby kit, although I DO have a fairly good hand lens of the Sherlock Holmes type.

I have had enough practical experience to recognize the characteristic damage done by a few of our commoner bugs—thrips and mites, for instance—but with the plant diseases, the symptoms would have to stick out a mile before I have a clue as to what is wrong. Folks with sick plants would be much better advised to send their specimens to government or university laboratories where they would get an accurate diagnosis rather than just an informed guess.

Fortunately, it isn't always necessary to know the name of the illness in order to treat a sick tree or shrub. Just as a medical doctor can treat an unknown low-grade infection with an antibiotic, so we have what you might call "backshot" remedies for plants. These are preparations that contain a mixture of different bug-killers and fungicides—something for the sap-sucking insects, something for leaf-eating caterpillars and bugs, a potent chemical for combating mildew, and still another ingredient for preventing the spread of other common fungus infections.

To name just a few of these do-it-yourself plant doctor kits, the Ortho people put out Botano Garden Dust, containing two bug-killers and two fungicides. The Niagara Brand dealers carry Pomogreen Spray, also with four ingredients. Later's Home Orchard Spray is a cure-all formulated to take care of almost any of our common parasitic troubles, while Chipman All-Purpose Spray is another pretty good bet when you don't know what is wrong with your sick plants.

Green Cross Gardol Rose Spray is unique in that two of the ingredients—one insecticide and one fungicide—are systemic chemicals, absorbed into the plant's bloodstream, working from the inside; and therefore won't wash off. Ortho Systemic Rose and Flower Care renders all parts of a plant poisonous to all insects that feed upon it, and contains also a fertilizer for improving the general health of your plants.

The frequency of treatment needs a bit of thinking about too. When folks get a prescription from the doctor filled, they are quite resigned to taking the medicine three times a day until health is restored, but with a garden remedy, they give the plant just one squirt, then sit back and wait for it to pick up. Sick plants, like sick people, need regular and persistent dosing; a pretty good rule of thumb is to spray once a week until no further spread of the trouble can be detected.

One point I must make clear: Do not expect the good green color to come back in a discolored or ailing leaf. Any damage done to an individual leaf by bugs, disease, hail or what have you, is done-without possibility of cure. I have never known an injured leaf to make a comeback, and the most you can expect from any garden remedy is that the new leaves will be healthy, and the healthy, unaffected leaves will remain that way. In other words, sprays will prevent the SPREAD of the trouble, but won't cure individual leaves.

Because of this, it is good garden hygiene to pick off and burn all bad leaves as soon as noticed, for they won't get any better no matter how often you dose them, and as long as they remain on the plant, they constitute a possible source of re-infection.

The Bitter World of SHEILAH GRAHAM

Wife Repulses Cary Grant

LONDON (NANA) — Cary Grant is using all of his charm, which is considerable, to effect a reconciliation with his estranged wife. Before leaving London some weeks ago, he telephoned and asked her to reconsider her decision to get a divorce. Cary calls constantly at her house in Beverly Hills, is devoted to their baby daughter and wants them both to return to live with him. And there's the rub. Cary, in all the years he has lived in Hollywood, has never had a home he could call his own. He is always a renter, never a proud owner and this is unusual in the world of American film stars. It's not as though the 63-year-old Cary can't afford it. Not only is he in the multi-million dollar class, but all of his films of the past decade revert to him seven years after they are released. Think of the millions more he can make on television. Cary's estranged wife $1,000 a month for the house she is renting. It cost much more but she is paying the difference herself. She would like to buy the place and confided to a chum, "Maybe I will when I get my settlement in the fall." The word "settlement" seems to rule out the reconciliation Cary is so anxious to get.

in-law will also be along. He is renting the villa occupied by the Peter Sellers' while they were filming The Bobo. Britt Ekland — Mrs. Peter Sellers — and the baby have returned from Stockholm where she was visiting her mother and are due to join Peter on his yacht for a month on the Mediterranean.

You should have seen the scramble in real estate circles when Ray Milland announced he was prepared to pay a $1,000 a month for the right flat in Mayfair, while he directs and stars in the movie version of Hostile Witness, and stars on stage in the musical version of The Picture of Dorian Gray. All Ray wants, he says, are two bedrooms, two bathrooms and two reception rooms. Life can be tough.

Think Fink — It's Paramount's new motto. John Fink, a Yale graduate, has been signed by the studio. He has a Jimmy Stewart quality," I was told. The studio wants to change his last name. Fink is resisting. When Jack Lemmon was discovered for the movies, they begged him to change his surname. Jack said no. Lemmon was his father's name and by golly it would remain his. As Lemmon, Jack rose to screen fame. Will Fink? It's something to fink about.

ARTHUR HOPPE Begs Leaders to Take Vacation

Please Give Us a Break

Comrade Kosygin and family are spending their annual month-long vacation at the Black Sea.

All of us who are deeply concerned with the day to day conduct of world affairs can't help but dwell uneasily on the problem the Soviet Premier's lengthy absence from the Kremlin raises: How come Johnson, Ho Chi Minh, de Gaulle and other world leaders don't take a month off too?

If they'd all agree to get away during, say, August, we'd have 31 whole days without bombastic threats, urticant remarks and diplomatic insults. They'd have a vacation we could all enjoy.

Of course, a month-long vacation for any world leader has one inherent drawback that appears impossible to surmount. Take the case of Kosygin.

There he is on the first day trying to relax on the porch of his samovar (summer cabin), a glass of troika (pink lemonade) in his hand, his feet up on a borsch (a kind of Russian footstool).

"Was that the phone?" he cries, jumping up.

"It was only a cricket. Daddy," says daughter Kosygin soothingly. "Now you simply must relax and enjoy your vacation. I'm sure the country will get along fine without you."

"That's what I'm afraid of," says Kosygin gloomily. "Remember Khrushchev."

So for the first week he reads Pravda each morning irrationally, and burns up the wires to the Kremlin. "Can't you forget your troubles, Grandpa?" says an offspring hopefully.

"I don't want anybody forgetting they're mine," he says. "Remember Khrushchev."

But by the second week, he begins to notice the vastness of a starry sky, the eternity of waves, the mystery of squirrels and the delight of children shrieking on a beach.

By the third week he's only reading the comic page and by the fourth, when the phone rings, he says hopefully to one of the younger Kosygin, "Maybe it's for you."

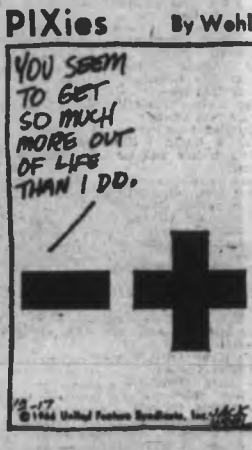

So he returns to the office a new man. Fit, relaxed and imbued with a sense of what's truly important in life—like stars, waves, squirrels and children.

But after a few days, naturally, he's right back in the swing of things, selling guns to the Middle East, doubling the production of nuclear missiles, shouting at Red China, insulting the U.S. and generally stirring up trouble.

And things like stars, waves, squirrels and the laughter of children fade slowly like an ill-remembered dream.

Even so, it's obvious that for any of our leaders to go off on a month's vacation does him, and us, a world of good. Let's hope they all, in the interests of a month's peace, will emulate Kosygin.

At present, unfortunately, there seems no way to surmount the one inherent drawback in giving them all a month's vacation. That, of course, is that they come back.

Inquest Today
Into Death
Near Colwood

A coroner's inquest will be opened tonight into the death of a 35-year-old father of two who died after a two-car collision at Sooke and Metchosin Roads, near Colwood, early Thursday.

Russell Hurst of 4546 Rocky Point Road, was dead on arrival at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Driver of the other car, Mrs. Janice Ludvigson, 38 of 2857 Leigh Road, was treated for a leg injury and shock and released.

Mr. Hurst, a bus driver, was alone in his car and on his way home from work.

Calwood RCMP said the Hurst car had just turned off Sooke

Road onto Metchosin and was approaching a slight grade when it collided with an oncoming car which was apparently turning in front of the Hurst vehicle.

Police defined the crash as an angle collision.

FEEBLE PULSE

Mr. Hurst was in deep shock when police arrived, and had to be lifted from his car. There was only a feeble pulse.

A passenger in the car driven by Mrs. Ludvigson, Kenneth Caffery of 745 Goldstream, was unhurt.

The accident took place on a triangular turn-off section of highway.

Red Power?

"It's just a word being put in the mouths of Indians," declares Philip Paul of Brentwood, fast emerging as a leading spokesman for B.C.'s 45,000 native Indians.

Indians aren't likely to turn to violence to get what they want, said the former Tsartlip Band chief in an interview Wednesday. But, he added, they are now determined to improve their living conditions.

"I don't think the term 'Red Power' has ever been used by any Indian leader in regard to the unrest and dissatisfaction of Indians," he said.

"A more militant type of leadership is emerging among our Indians," he observed. "It is quite general throughout Canada.

"We are no longer asking. We are demanding."

What Indians want, he said, is an end to government paternalism, and better housing and education opportunities. They want a chance to have what other Canadians have.

Working to help his fellow Indians has become a full-time job for Mr. Paul.

Experience as Chief

At age 33, he has two years' experience behind him as elected chief of the Tsartlip Band at Brentwood. He is a member of the B.C. Indian Advisory Council which elected him to the Indians' National Advisory Board.

The board advises the federal Indian Affairs Branch.

Mr. Paul has just returned from an Ottawa meeting of the board, which was followed by participation at the special Indians' day at Expo '67 in Montreal.

He is executive director of Native Indians of B.C.

Last spring Mr. Paul was hired by the Greater Victoria

School Board to investigate the educational needs of Indian adults in the capital region.

His recommendations form the basis of a special course to be given this fall at the Institute of Adult Studies. Two classes of 40 adults, mostly single men, are expected to begin upgrading their education to Grade 8 level, said Mr. Paul.

In his survey of the capital region's 1,000 native Indians, Mr. Paul discovered that the average educational level was below Grade 8.

He estimates only 30 Indians here have finished Grade 12. He's one of them.

Layoffs Frequent

Most Indian men work in mills and shipyards, with frequent layoffs, he said Wednesday.

"There are many Indians here—roughly 75 per cent—who earn less than $2,000 a year.

"It makes it literally impossible for them to improve their living conditions on the reserves without help," he said.

"Many Indian families have indicated a desire to change their way of life. But they find it impossible under present conditions."

The Indian Act thwarts natives from improving housing to any great degree, he said.

"If you are going to improve your house or build a new one, it is a cash proposition. There's no such thing as a mortgage on an Indian reserve."

The Indian Affairs Branch has a housing program which is doing some good, but is moving too slowly, he said.

One great need is for pre-school training for Indian children. Nursery schools and kindergartens would offset the disadvantages from which Indian youngsters suffer, he believes.

The Confederation of Native Indians of B.C., which Mr. Paul directs, is still in the organizational stage. He predicts it will soon be heard from, particularly on what Indians term "the B.C. land question."

No Treaty Signed

British Columbia never signed a treaty with its native Indians, as other provinces did, said Mr. Paul. The land was simply taken and the natives put on reserves.

The Confederation will seek "a just settlement of the B.C. land question," he said.

"Our title has never been extinguished nor surrendered.

"We haven't come to the point where we are thinking in terms of how much. It would have to be weighed in terms of what it was worth at the time it was taken, and in terms of the unjust treatment that B.C.'s Indians have been subjected to in the past century."

The suppression of the Indian culture and the indignity of life under the reserve system are what he means by "unjust treatment."

Mr. Paul can't or won't forecast the life of Indians in Canada.

But he says:

"It's definitely improving. Indians themselves are becoming concerned—and doing something about it.

"In the past they were concerned, but they didn't have the education to act.

"There can be a coming together of Indians and whites.

"The non-Indian can help improve the image of the Indian by respecting his human dignity, by accepting him as he is, not by over-zealous aid."

Food for Freedom

Fang, the greedy hamster, gave up a good meal for his own freedom Thursday.

The pet of five-year-old Brock McLeod, 3014 Craigowan Road, slipped through the bars of his birdcage and vanished several months ago.

He turned up Thursday in a neighbor's storeroom—inside a milk bottle which Brock and his seven-year-old brother Blake used for collecting grasshoppers.

It appeared he had recently squeezed into the bottle, filled up on grasshoppers, tucked as many spines as he could into his cheek pouches, then found he was too big to get out again. The slippery sides of the bottle were no help, either.

Brock's mother slid a rubber mat under Fang for traction, the family made pointed remarks about a hammer, and Fang gave up his pouchloads of grasshoppers and popped free.

Blaze Held On MalahatEx-Wren,
Irene Gye
Dies in City

Miss Irene A. Gye, MBE, of 2575 Lamadowne Road, died in Victoria Thursday.

Born in England, she resided in Victoria for the past 20 years.

Miss Gye served with the Women in the First World War.

FRENCH RELATIVES

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Andre Gouzien, in France; a cousin, the Viscount Briport, in England, and nieces and nephews in France.

Dean Brian Whitlow will conduct the funeral service at 10 a.m. Monday at Christ Church Cathedral. Burial will follow at Royal Oak Burial Park.

Chaplin's are in charge of arrangements.

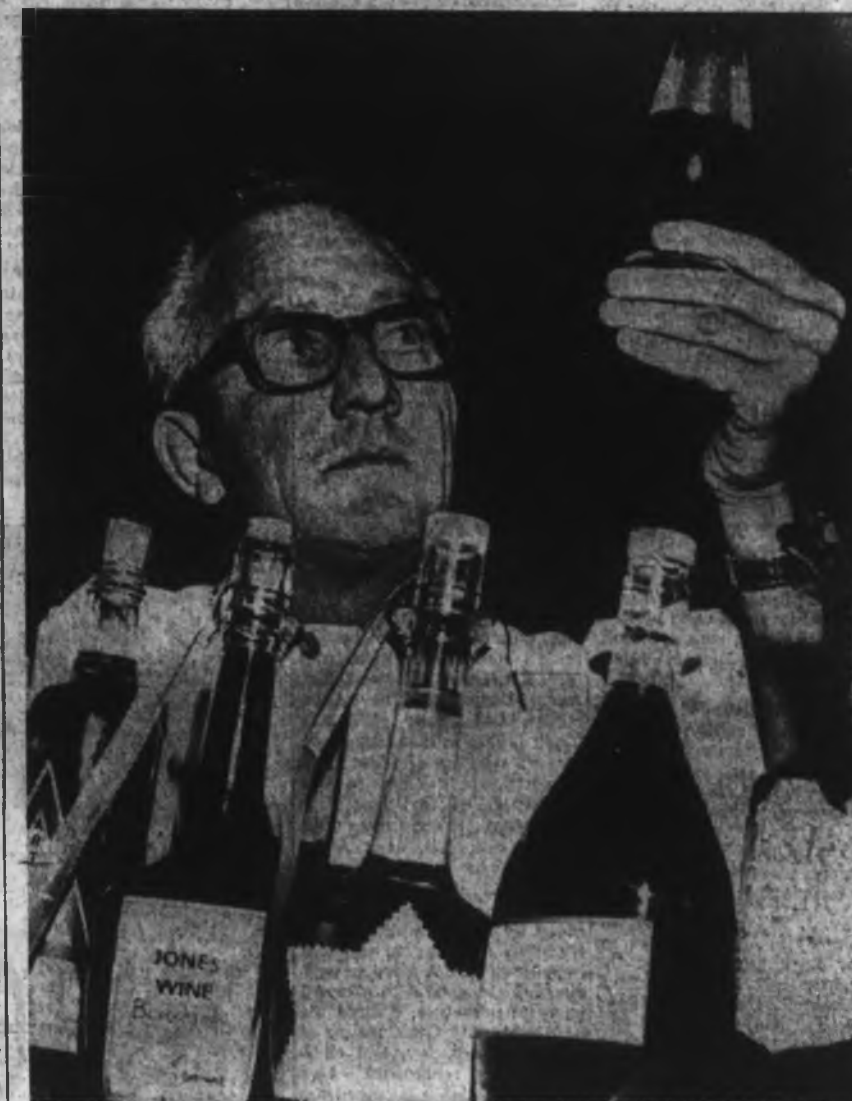

B.C. Forest Service men and machines are mopping up the Malahat forest fire which flared up and jumped a fire guard Wednesday.

By Thursday evening, 50 men, three bulldozers and five tank trucks were at work, seeking out, wetting down and smothering hot spots. Area burned since Aug. 3 totals 22 acres.

The blaze got out of hand Wednesday when it jumped a fire guard and roared up to the top of the ridge.

The forest service rushed all available men and equipment to the scene and with the aid of a Canmo water bomber were able to get to working position Wednesday evening.

Investigators believe the blaze was the work of an arsonist.

Heirloom Opal Ring For Something Old

An heirloom opal ring belonging to her grandmother was the "something old" talisman for Sandra Marie Barge when she became the bride of Robert Gary Lauder recently.

Seed pearls and sequins centred the lace roses which appliqued the bell skirt and bateau neckline of the floor-length gown. Made by the bride, the beau de sole gown featured lily point sleeves and a full train extending from the waist. Her cathedral veil misted from a headpiece studded with crystals and drop pearls, and for "luck," she wore a sixpence in her shoe. Pink rosebuds and lily of the valley formed her bouquet.

Rev. Murray Henderson conducted the service in Centennial United Church, which was decorated with floral arrangements in pink and white tones. Organist was David Palmer, and the groom's mother sang "O Perfect Love" and "Still as the Night."

Parents of the principals are

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Harvey Barge, 2730 Forbes Street, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rudolph Lauder of Toronto. Mr. Barge gave his daughter in marriage. The bride's attendants chose street-length dresses of turquoise blue satin. Styled on empire lines, the dresses featured white daisy appliques on the bodices, and jewel necklines.

Girls Traffic Stoppers

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (CP) — Motorists slow down better for women flagmen, says construction engineer Bob Wilson. He has hired four pretty high school and college girls to signal drivers to slow for construction work on Highway 2, west of Lethbridge.

Meads-Fosker

Trip to Mexico

An exquisite floor-length gown of bridal lace was worn by Rea Louise Foster when she became the bride of Michael Edwin Meads.

A cathedral train of the same lace draped softly from the waist of the gown, and her four-tier veil of silk illusion net misted to the floor from a headpiece fashioned of lace and net, studded with seed pearls and crystals. She carried a bouquet of white orchids with stephanotis and ivy.

Rev. J. Vickers conducted the ceremony in All Saints' Church, View Royal, which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald R. Fosker, 283 Island Highway, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Meads, 4024 Methosin Road. Chrysanthemums and gladioli in white and apricot tones decorated the church. Soloist John Bray sang "The Lord's Prayer." Mr. Foster gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. Robert Dorken, sister of the bride, was matron of honor in a floor-length gown of apricot beau crystalline, styled on empire lines. Her headpiece was a ribbon rose on tone, studded with seed pearls. She had a white lace fan, outlined with apricot feathered carnations and silk butterflies, made by the bride's mother. Bridesmaids Mrs. Richard Bradley and Mrs. David Biggs were in similar outfits, and flower girl, little Cindy Locke, in matching frock, carried a basket of white roses with ivy.

Ellis Meads was best man for his brother, and ushers were William Sturgell, Jack Atkinson, and the groom's cousin, Peter Locke.

Music for dancing was provided by the Olympics for the reception following in the Red Lion Motor Inn. A four-tier wedding cake, topped with a bridal party in miniature, centred the head table, and Grecian urns of talliesman roses, ivy, and chrysanthemums completed the decor. Bert Crowe proposed the toast on behalf of R. R. McLeod, Ottawa.

For travelling on honeymoon to Mexico, the new Mrs. Meads donned a two-piece suit in yellow raw silk, with hat on tone. Taupe accessories and an orchid corsage complemented the outfit.

When the couple will make their home in a Lady Simcoe apartments.

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: You probably know as much about human nature as almost anybody in the world. I am no Ann Landers but I, too, have a front row seat to what goes on in people's lives. I run a coin laundry.

First, let me tell you I am a man. People call me an extrovert. My wife says I have a big mouth and no tact. I am writing because I want to pin a rose on every hard working wife who never thinks herself as a heroine. Believe me, she really is.

Night after night I see women come in here carrying big bundles of laundry. Sometimes they are pregnant. "Where's your hubby?" I ask them, and the answers are always the same. "At the ball game," or "Asleep in front of the TV" or "He had to go out some place."

Before I got into the laundry business I used to think that a man who held a steady job had a right to sit on his duff when he got home at night but I have changed my tune. Those women who haul in the bundles of laundry have also been working all day.

Please print this letter. It won't perform any miracles so far as the lazy husbands are concerned, but it might make the wives feel better.

FLORIDA READER

Dear Florida: Here's the letter and, like you, I don't expect any miracles either, but it should make the wives feel better — and I hope it does.

Dear Ann Landers: I am in bad trouble. I saw an article in the paper that I wanted. It cost 75 cents. Dad said I didn't need it, so I took it when the clerk wasn't looking. I know it was wrong. I shouldn't have taken it. But I did and now I am in a real jam.

I showed the article to my brother and that was a big mistake. He says I have to let him have his way all the time now or he will tell my dad about the article I stole.

Please help me out of this and I will never take anything that doesn't belong to me again as long as I live. — WORRIED STIFF

Dear Stiff: Go to your father and confess. Ask him how you can earn 75 cents to pay for the article. Then take the money to the store, tell the clerk what you did, pay for the article and let this be a lesson to you. And you can tell your brother that a blackmailer is as bad as a thief and he should reform, too.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 22 (old enough to know better) and I made a big mistake. I was going with a wonderful young man who had two more years to finish professional school. I told him I'd wait.

Just before we were about to announce our engagement I had some girl-talk with my sorority sisters and they said the fellow was nice but he was "funny looking" and I'd be ashamed of his looks as the years went on. Like a fool I broke off with him.

That was four months ago and now I am eating my heart out. The handsome jacks are nothing compared with my old flame and I want him back. Any advice? — FOOLISH GIRL

Dear Fool: Run, don't walk, to the nearest phone. Call the old flame and level with him. If he hasn't replaced you with a dame who has a full set of brains consider yourself plenty lucky. I'll keep my fingers crossed, Buttercup.

Garden Party For Patients

The grounds of Mr. and Mrs. W. Lloyd Morgan's home on Pemberton Road was the attractive setting Saturday for the annual garden party of the Victoria and Vancouver Island Multiple Sclerosis Society. This is the 16th year the Morgans have provided their home for the party.

More than 100 MS patients, their families and friends gathered for the gala event. Music for the afternoon was by the band of the 5th (British Columbia) Field Battery, Royal Regiment of Canadian Artillery, by permission of Maj. Arthur E. Sherwin, officer commanding. The band was directed by Warrant Officer E. G. Marsh.

James K. Nesbitt was master of ceremonies and Fred Dunnet led community singing. In charge of refreshments were members of the MS Golden Key Auxiliary, led by Mrs. Lorna Millard. Giving the vote of thanks for the afternoon was the Society president, W. H. Phillips.

Britain's Youngest Lawyer Wanted to Be an Actress

By JOAN DEPPA

LONDON (UPI) — Rita Oldak wanted to be an actress but now at 21 she is the youngest woman ever called to the British bar. And she thinks there isn't too much difference between being an actress and a lawyer.

Miss Oldak, pretty and given to mini skirts, is a barrister.

Under Britain's ages old legal system the functions of a lawyer are divided into two separate roles — the solicitor who generally practices law outside of court, and the barrister who represents the client in the courtroom.

This young lady is a barrister, and in explaining why she says: "Actually, I wanted to become an actress. But I was refused at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts and my school suggested I study law.

"After all, you have to admit that being in the bar is fairly extrovert!"

She officially became a barrister July 18, so she hasn't really had much chance to show her stuff as yet. "And it's the holiday period now, so it will probably be a while before I do," she said.

Miss Oldak said she views her early qualifications — she was ready for the bar at 18 but had to wait until her 21st birthday — as something of an accident.

"I was fairly bright at school and when I was eight I skipped about two inches or so above a year, and when I was twelve, I skipped another year, so I've always been two years ahead," she said. "When most people are finishing their studies at 21, I finished at 18."

She finished her three-year law course in 18 months. "My mind was attuned to taking exams. I had been working at a fairly high pitch and the extra study came fairly naturally," the young barrister said.

Since qualifying she's been working in the engineering firm her mother owns, learning the practical, business side of law.

The young Portia sees no reason for abandoning her miniskirts.

"People have this strange idea that if you can get through a tough subject like law, you ought to wear thick shoes and dark stockings," she said.

"But I'm 21, I'm still a young girl. I can't go around like that," she said.

Besides, she said, when working she wears her minis at a fairly conservative length, only about two inches or so above the knee.

"When I go out in the evenings to discotheques, I wear them shorter, of course," she said.

And there is no question of her wearing a mini-skirt when she pleads cases in court. For that — like every other barrister — she will have to wear an old-fashioned long gown and a curled white wig.

Pre-Wedding Parties

Janice Smith Feted

Miss Janice Louise Smith, whose marriage to Mr. Kenneth Glen Hunt of Winnipeg takes place today, was honored recently at several parties.

A surprise miscellaneous shower was held at the Crescent Road home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. L. Rush. Hostesses were Mrs. B. Collins and Miss Diana Slater. Mrs. A. H. Sheard presided at the attractively decorated tea table.

Attending the shower party were honored guests, maternal grandmother Mrs. L. Jepp and the groom-elect's maternal grandmother Mrs. F. Bowdidge, who have both come from England for the wedding. Other guests were Mrs. R. W. Smith and Mrs. H. S. Hunt, mothers of the principals, and Mrs. M. Wright, Mrs. W. Pitt, Mrs. D. Boardman, Mrs. W. Chisholm, Mrs. W. Sinclair, Mrs. E. Goddard, Mrs. R. Willets and the Misses Florence Price, Pat Buckley, Donna Boardman, Sue Foulkes, Wendy Wilson, Linda Smith, Darlene and Karen Smith.

The bride-elect was honored at a shower given by Mrs. W. Chisholm and Mrs. J. Sheard in the latter's home, on Lokus Avenue.

Miss Linda Smith assisted her sister in opening the gifts. Mrs. R. W. Smith, bride-elect's mother, and Mrs. L. Rush presided at the tea table.

Other guests were Mrs. L. Jepp, grandmother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. R. Spouse, Mrs. R. Pitt, Mrs. W. Pitt, Mrs. K. Moyes, Mrs. G. B. LeVae, Mrs. L. Rush and Misses Florence Price, Donna Boardman, Pat Justice and Gillian Smith.

Bride-Elect Honored

A surprise miscellaneous bridal shower was held at the home of Mrs. Marilyn Cordingham, 1121 McKenzie Street, for Miss Carol White whose marriage to Mr. G. T. Nicholson takes place August 25. Luncheon was served to guests who included: Mrs. P. White, mother of the bride-elect; Mrs. Marlene Casey, Mrs. Jan Miller, Miss Elaine Cole, Miss Julie Romain, Miss Sue Casella, Miss Pat Nicholson and Miss Jill Atkinson.

Abbotsford Welcomes 300 Craft

Old, New Meet at Air Show

ABBOTSFORD (CP) — An estimated 300 aircraft, ranging from the sleek and deadly fighters of modern warfare, are being gathered for today's opening of the Centennial International Air Show here.

The three-day show at this Fraser Valley community 40 miles east of Vancouver is rotated by its promoters as the largest ever held in North America. Aircraft from the U.S., Britain and Canada will be displayed.

Among the guests at the show will be First World War fighter ace Baron Willy Coppens de Houthulst of Belgium and Douglas Bader, the Royal Air Force's highest pilot of Second World War fame.

The Baron, who knocked out 37 German aircraft in 16 months of combat in 1917-18, said on his arrival at Vancouver airport that he enjoyed the 10-hour flight from Amsterdam.

It was the longest flight he had ever taken, he said, but he preferred the older planes. "I am like an old sailor who prefers sailing ships to steamships."

Production of the short film, which will cost between $35,000 and $40,000, will be carried out by Jean-Claude Labrecque, a Montreal film producer.

Most of the film was taken by a special camera crew which followed President de Gaulle throughout his visit to Quebec.

TV Hearing

All Sets Safe?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Welfare secretary John Gardner told Congress Thursday radiation emissions have been reduced to safe levels in modern television sets.

But he conceded the Public Health Service still was not checking radiation levels of new sets going on the market, despite recent reports emissions of 110,000 General Electric sets could be dangerous.

"We're not set up to do it, but maybe we should be giving it some consideration," Gardner told Rep. William Bates, a member of the joint committee on atomic energy.

URANIUM HEARING

The question of television set radiation came up during a committee hearing on what radiation levels would be safe for uranium miners. The hearings were prompted by evidence that incidence of lung cancer was greater in miners than in the general population.

Rep. Chas. Hollifield asked Gardner if the public "can rest assured" it is in no danger from television set radiation.

Gardner replied that emissions from "all modern sets have been reduced to very safe levels." He said the question was getting "very careful attention" and that PHS had intensified its checking of television sets.

The stepup came after General Electric sent out recall orders for 110,000 color sets sold between September, 1966, and March, 1967. Gardner said all but about 8,000 of the sets have been located.

The trouble with the sets, Gardner said, was that a part of the mechanism emitting the rays was not properly shielded. But he said the danger was reduced because the rays all were focused straight downward, rather than through the tube toward the viewer.

ONE CASE

But, the PHS learned of a case in which a woman put her baby directly beneath her set so

Tyee Action Picking Up

Gold River tyee fishing is picking up and should hit a peak soon.

"Not too many fish yet, but still trying," writes Verne Palmer, who has been at Gold River with fishing partner Roy Smith and two or three others. But they have registered eight tyees from Gold River and adjacent Burnaby River, biggest one a 40-pounder caught by Smith on a Roy Smith dodger and Strip Tanager.

Edmondson

Future Bleak As Fugitive Heads for Cell

OTTAWA (UPI) — George Ben Edmondson is an articulate, witty and very successful civil engineer who is the father of a five-week-old son. He is also one of the "10 most wanted men" on the United States Federal Bureau of Investigation list.

The FBI describe the mild-mannered 30-year-old native of Springfield, Mo., as an "escape artist" and a man who would not hesitate to kill. He is wanted for jail break and armed robbery.

Edmondson (alias Alex Barman) was arrested in Shawville, Quebec, on June 23, where he was living quietly as the chief engineer on a $60,000,000 pulp and paper mill site. He was recognized by an unnamed "informant" from a "wanted poster" in a crime magazine and turned in to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

'NO IDEA'

"I could have cried when the RCMP came to talk to me in Shawville," Edmondson said. "I had no idea that I had been placed on any wanted lists."

The RCMP arrested Edmondson despite his claims "It is all a mistake" and three days later he admitted his true identity and that he had entered Canada illegally.

The slender, mustached Edmondson was extradited from Canada to the United States Thursday where he will be returned to jail to serve the six years still remaining on his sentence.

NEW LIFE

Edmondson escaped from captivity in August, 1965, and fled his home state of Missouri to Montreal via New York. He married a 22-year old French Canadian school teacher there in March 1966 and began a new life as an engineer on the site of Expo '67.

Back to U.S.?

Border Waiting

OTTAWA (CP) — Charles Edward Ervin, a Michigan fugitive arrested July 25 at Hawkebury, 65 miles east of here, was returned to his jail cell Thursday after completion of a special immigration inquiry into his status in Canada.

Decision of the inquiry is expected to be announced today. An immigration department source said Ervin, who is on the list of 10 most-wanted fugitives in the U.S., will likely be ordered deported.

Should this be the case, he could delay deportation by appealing to the immigration appeal board and, if unsuccessful there, could appeal directly to the immigration minister for permission to stay in Canada.

Police think Ervin's brother, Gordon Dale Ervin, who also is on the list, may also be living in Montreal.

Police Report:

Organized Crime 'In Many Cities'

TORONTO (CP) — The Star says a report by a committee of Canada's top policemen states that organized crime exists in many large cities and is expanding.

The Toronto newspaper says in a dispatch from Ottawa that the report arises out of a federal-provincial conference on organized crime held in January, 1966.

The report said that organized crime covers nearly all fields—extortion, stock frauds, narcotics, gambling, illicit liquor, bankruptcy, arson fraud, business manipulation and other forms of racketeering.

GROWTH SEEN

"There is reason to believe that organized criminal activity in Canada will continue to grow and flourish in our major cities unless checked."

The report was a follow-up to the original report issued at the end of the 1966 meetings.

There was "clear evidence" that those engaged in organized crime in Canada maintain a close working relationship and personal tie with many of the U.S. crime syndicates.

CRIME UNITS

It was recommended that provincial crime intelligence units be established and be part of a national crime intelligence centre to be situated in Ottawa and operated by the RCMP as a federal responsibility.

The committee was headed

Violence Soars In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. crime rate rocketed 48 per cent in the last six years, with violent crimes soaring 11 per cent last year alone, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover reported Thursday.

In its annual report on U.S. crime, the FBI reported:

● Since 1960, while the U.S. grew nine per cent, the volume of crime rose 53 per cent.

● In the last year the per capita crime rate was up 10.2 per cent while the number of crimes rose 11.4 per cent.

● The number of serious crimes solved averaged 24 per cent, a drop of 8 per cent below the number solved the previous year. The percentage of crimes solved also dropped 8 per cent over the previous five-year period.

Water Ban Planned On Monday

By A. H. MURPHY

If there is no rain before Monday, a six-day-a-week ban on lawn sprinklers will be imposed in Victoria. Forecasters Thursday night offered no early promise of rain, although a trace fell in parts of Greater Victoria earlier in the afternoon.

Victoria Water Commissioner James Garnett was instructed by city council Thursday to take "appropriate" measures for conservation, but said following the meeting that it was unlikely that any action would be put into effect before Monday.

The restriction will be imposed for as long as the water crisis lasts, with sprinkling allowed only on Thursdays.

CONFUSION

Meanwhile, there was a good deal of confusion as to the gravity of the situation. City Manager Dennis Young told aldermen that he had been told that there was water enough for only one week. On one hand, and on the other that there was a need for conservation only.

New developments include: ● Reeve Ray Bryant of Esquimalt has called for a special meeting of the board of the Greater Victoria Water District to "clarify the situation and resolve conflicting reports." At the same time he imposed a complete ban on all municipal sprinkling.

● The city's ban on its own boulevard and park watering was in effect Thursday.

● The Greater Victoria school board stopped sprinkling on all of its properties.

● Spanish has banned all municipal sprinkling and will call for a prohibition on citizen sprinkling if it is urged by water district chief commissioner Ronald Upward.

● Royal Jubilee Hospital officials have curtailed all watering of hospital grounds until further notice, to save 20,000 gallons daily.

City Engineer James Garnett, who is also water commissioner in Victoria, has no power, under the relevant city bylaw, to prosecute in the event of an infraction of the sprinkling.

British Post Seized

HONG KONG (Reuters)

Hong Kong's border with China was closed today except for one crossing point after Chinese workers occupied one of the British colony's police border posts overnight. It was announced here.

The announcement said the Chinese held a government officer, a British army officer and several policemen in the Man Kam To post for most of the night, but the situation was resolved without bloodshed.

CHINESE SIDE

A group of workers from the Chinese side of the border broke into the remote police post at midnight Thursday night and snatched weapons from British soldiers, a spokesman here said.

The district officer was forced to sign a document as a man stood over him with an axe and another officer had a knife at his back, he said.

The army officer had a pistol aimed at him, he said.

NO BLOODSHED

But the spokesman said the critical situation at the border post was resolved without bloodshed and the seized weapons were handed back early this morning.

A large force of British troops surrounded the area.

Australia Checks Canada's Bid

Canada's run at taking the fourth Commonwealth golf tournament faltered at the Victoria Golf Club Thursday when Canada was beaten by Australia.

The Australians won by five matches to four to record their first victory in three days.

New Zealand and Great Britain are tied for the lead with three points from a win and a draw. New Zealand defeated South Africa, 5-4, in Thursday's other match.

Canada has won points with a win and a loss, the same record as South Africa. Australia has two points from one win and three losses.

The Canadians had an uphill struggle after they dropped two of the three Scotch foursomes. That meant they had to win four of the six singles—they won three.

Stuart Jones, a veteran of 13 appearances for New Zealand, aced the 223-yard seventh in his afternoon single against Comrie Du Toit.

The perfect shot came after the South African had put a four iron three feet from the cup. Jones hit a three iron which bounced twice before going in.

Du Toit, who got his two, said afterwards he thought his shot might have worried Jones to the extent that Jones might have missed the green.

It was Jones' sixth ace, but his first since 1958.

The tournament, which finishes Saturday, continues at 8:30 a.m. today with Canada meeting New Zealand and South Africa playing Great Britain.

Rebel Tells Mobutu To Quit Presidency

BUJUMBURA, Burundi (CP)—A Congolese colonel serving with the white mercenary force at the Congo town of Bukavu Thursday proclaimed a government of public safety and called on President Joseph Mobutu to resign.

Col. Leonard Monga, named last year by former Congolese premier Moïse Tshombe as his chief of staff in exile, said the aim of his government was to end civil war in the Congo.

Meanwhile, Belgian-born Maj. Jean Schramme, head of the mercenaries, gave Mobutu a 10-day ultimatum to discuss with him the future of the Congo.

MARCH ON CAPITAL?

Otherwise, he hinted in an interview with The Associated Press, he would possibly consider marching on the Congo capital, Kinshasa.

Schramme gave the interview at the general headquarters of his 900-man army on the first floor of the Bukavu Residence Hotel.

He told an Associated Press correspondent:

"It is up to Mobutu now to contact us, to make the first steps."

"We consider that he is wrong. I count 10 days from now for Mobutu's answer."

"After that date, I'll take over measures of a greater scope and who knows, I could even go as far as launching an offensive against Kinshasa."

However, he continued: "But I add that as soon as my men, I mean all my men, will be in safety, I shall definitely leave the Congo."

In Kinshasa the government categorically rejected any possibility of negotiating with the mercenaries.

A government radio broadcast said Mobutu would never "lower himself to discussions with foreign gangsters trying to

If No Progress Today

St. Joseph's Next on List

By KEN WARREN

Operating engineers will walk off their jobs at 8 a.m. Monday at St. Joseph's Hospital unless progress is made today toward a settlement of their dispute, a union official said Thursday night.

Ed Callan, international representative of the International Union of Operating Engineers, said strike action hinges on the outcome of a conciliation meeting today in Vancouver.

Labor Minister Peterson Thursday assailed a scheduled strike at St. Paul's Hospital in Vancouver this morning by appointing Jack Sherlock of the labor department to conciliate in the hospital's dispute.

BOTH SIDES

Mr. Sherlock is meeting both sides in an effort to avert the spread of a power plant strike which hit Royal Columbian Hospital in New Westminster two days ago.

"If there is no settlement following the meeting there will be a strike on St. Paul's Hospital forthwith," Mr. Callan said.

Mr. Callan brushed aside various warnings and pleas by government and medical agencies involved in the dispute.

"B.C. Hospitals' Association should take note," he said of a warning from the labor minister that both the union and hospitals reach a speedy solution or face legislative action at the next session of the legislature, which begins in January.

To a plea from the Victoria Medical Society Wednesday night that operating engineers give assurance that "emergency service will not cease," Mr. Callan replied:

"Everything in a hospital is emergency. We might as well say we'll never strike as say we'll offer emergency service."

SINCE OCTOBER

To a suggestion by a Victoria alderman that the union's strike methods corresponded to "taking a cane from a blind man," Mr. Callan retorted:

"He is speaking without a knowledge of the situation."

Mr. Callan said his union has been trying since October to get parity between the rates of third class engineers in the larger hospitals in the province.

BCHA BLAMED

He blamed BCHA negotiation attitudes for the dispute.

"If the hospitals were able to negotiate on their own there would be no dispute," he said.

He said both Royal Jubilee Hospital in Victoria and Prince George General Hospital had

Biafrans Drive To West

LAGOS (Reuters)—Biafran forces, now controlling Nigeria's Midwestern Region after a lightning takeover, were moving towards the boundary of the Western Region, reports reaching here said Thursday.

Meanwhile federal reinforcements were reported preparing to try to stem the thrust by the troops from the breakaway former Eastern Region.

A federal spokesman conceded Thursday that Midwestern army mutineers and Biafran forces under Brig. Victor Banjo have seized the whole of the Midwestern Region.

He said Biafran troops were moving by road from the captured Midwestern capital of Benin to the Western Region border 45 miles away.

Radio Biafra, monitored here, said a new government was being formed in Benin and a new political program drawn up.

Cheering, chanting crowds paraded through Enugu, capital of the breakaway region following announcement of the Biafran victory.

Lt.-Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu, who led Biafran away from the Nigerian federation May 30, was greeted by cheering crowds shouting "power, power."

'French-Canadians Want to Be Freed'

By CARL MOLLINS
The Canadian Press

President de Gaulle said Thursday French-speaking Canadians have shown unmistakably that they want to be freed—but whether he meant politically or culturally free was not clear.

Critics of his "Quebec libre" speech in Montreal last month are promoting the decline of France, de Gaulle said in a television speech to the nation Thursday night. (See Page 5.)

De Gaulle's reference to French-speaking Canadians featured the word "Afranchissement"—emancipation—but did not spell out whether he meant political independence or freedom to develop their own cultural heritage.

The reference to his Canadian visit came when he said he had "stupefied and outraged the apostles of decline" ("stupéfie et indigné-4-H les apôtres du déclin") with a series of assertive French policies.

That was the case in "the unanimous and indescribable will to emancipation which the French-Canadians displayed in the presence of the president of France" ("l'unanimité et indécryptable volonté d'affranchissement que les Français du Canada ont manifestée autour du président de La République Française").

The word affranchissement is defined in the Larousse dictionary.

Key to Better World

No Machine Will Replace Modern Woman

By KARIN MOSER

MONTREAL (CP)—French author Marie Perle said Thursday modern woman holds the key to a better world in her hands and no machine will ever be able to replace her.

Mrs. Perle, whose book, Le Mielier de Femme—The Art of Being a Woman—has been translated into many languages, made the statement during a lecture at Expo 67's Hospitality pavilion.

About 200 women crowded into the auditorium to hear the second in a three-day series of lectures.

"The modern woman is about 46 years old," said Mrs. Perle. "She is mature, fashionably dressed and her children have most probably grown up."

"Thus, she finds herself ready to lead a second life—a life which is a gift of the modern world, thanks to advanced medicines which preserve her health, fashions which preserve her figure and makeup which allow her to retain a youthful appearance."

"Armed with these assets and no longer absolutely required in the home, she carries a big sign which says she is looking for work."

Once she is in the working world, the modern woman is somewhat taken aback by the changes which have occurred and with which she is unfamiliar. At the same time she wants to be treated with equality and wants her femininity to be respected by the male members but some conscious effort.

"So the woman puts on a mask to please the men who see her with the glasses of their grandfathers, while at the same time she carries a shield which makes her inaccessible and forbidding to her companion."

"She must find her proper place in the modern world—not by copying men but by offering what men cannot offer, a flexibility which makes life fuller and happier and a deep vision which is sensitive to the realities of daily living and human beings."

Listing Munition-Laden Ship Adrift in Fog

KODIAK, Alaska (AP)—A wartime Liberty ship, unmanned and laden with 2,000 tons of explosives, was adrift on her side in dense fog off the Aleutian Islands Thursday.

The navy kept a close radar watch on the drifting SS Robert L. Stevenson, warning all shipping away, and said there was no danger of a surface explosion.

The Stevenson and her cargo of obsolete military munitions was to have been sunk and the explosives detonated hydrostatically as part of an experiment to develop techniques to detect and locate underground nuclear explosions.

The explosives were to have been detonated at the 4,000 foot level approximately 32 miles off Anchitka, but the Stevenson has drifted 10 miles northwest from the planned blast point.

In Juneau, Maj. Gen. C. F. Neerason, state adjutant general, was advised that when the Stevenson's seacocks were opened Thursday and the tow line cut a dense fog moved in and the ship rolled on her side.

The Navy said an attempt would be made to get a line aboard the Stevenson once the fog lifted.

Heat and Rain Records Set at Mainland Points

VANCOUVER (CP)—The temperature hit 82 degrees in Vancouver Thursday, breaking by one degree the previous high for Aug. 10, set in 1939.

Prince Rupert, on the northern B.C. coast, set a rainfall record with 3.59 inches.

Out with the Old, In with the New

The old and the new in the line of firetrucks were on display at the B.C. Fire Chiefs' annual college, being held in Campbell River this week. The old 1920 Federal, painted bright red and yellow, has a top speed of 20 miles an hour, and is shown proudly by Ross Murdoch, 16, of Nanaimo. The new Ford vehicle, the latest

The truck arrived an hour before a display it was scheduled to participate in, and will be delivered shortly to View Royal Fire Department. The old truck, with non-pneumatic tires, was driven through the city prior to the opening ceremony.

Postie to Call in Campbell River

CAMPBELL RIVER—A door-to-door letter carrier service will be established in Campbell River, with eight postmen calling on 2,600 homes and businesses in the district. About 325 calls will be made outside the boundaries. It is not expected the service will begin until early next year because extensive alterations have to be made to the upper floor of the federal building for mail sorting. Residents will also have to change house numbers and street signs be erected.

CROFTON—The Crofton pulp mill of the B.C. Forest Products has donated two floats to the North Cowichan municipality. On hand to receive the company's centennial gift were two Red Cross swimming instructors, Mrs. Len Hoganson, Mrs. Tom Hamilton and North Cowichan recreation commission chairman, Com. Dennis Hogan. The company was represented by George Flater.

DUNCAN—Duncan dairy farmer Joseph Fall has won the lead prize after his two-year-old Holstein, Nelly, produced 15,246 pounds of milk and 561 pounds of butterfat during one lactation period. Cowichan Dairy Herd Improvement Association supervisor Jack Wolf said during June and July a total of 125 records were set incorporating 88 Holsteins, 13 Jerseys, 13 Crossbreds and 11 Guernseys.

The performance is being sponsored by Salt Spring Lions Club.

Cowichan Station farmer Albert Baumgart had the high herd average amounting to 1,736 pounds of milk and 66 pounds of butterfat for a 31-day test.

PORT ALBERNI—Export

shipping from the Port Alberni harbor for the month of July totalled 72,763 tons, with 24 ships arriving, and 25 departures. The harbor commission recorded shipments of 42,738 tons of lumber, 24,098 tons of paper, 5,264 tons of pulp and 662 tons of plywood. In addition, 39,000 tons of iron ore, loaded at Toquart Bay, was also handled through the Port Alberni Harbor Commission. Forest product shipments were up by 1,048 tons over July of last year.

UNION BAY—A well-known and respected resident and pioneer, Myrtle Maud Peters, 84, has died in Cumberland General Hospital. She had been ill for the past 14 months, and for the last nine months had been a patient at Fort Hospital, Comox. Her father was a carpenter, and he brought his family to Union Bay in 1888 when the color ovens were being built.

Graveyard Blazes Both Suspicious

PORT ALBERNI—A mix-up in addresses resulted in the Port Alberni Fire Department following Alberni fire trucks to a fire in Alberni Greenwood Cemetery then remaining to help fight the blaze.

Shortly after the Alberni firemen left for the cemetery a second call was received giving an address different from, but close to the cemetery. Port Alberni firemen were dispatched to the second call, which also proved to be concerning the cemetery fire, which spread over a considerable area before being controlled.

Authorities are investigating the possibility that the fire was deliberately set. A fire a few days earlier in the cemetery destroyed the caretakers' tool shed and all equipment.

A fire also broke out in Dry Creek Park in Port Alberni about the same time, apparently as the result of youngsters and an illegal campfire.

Early Wednesday morning, both fire crews were called out again as both the park and cemetery fires were fanned up again by morning breezes.

All fire permits, even for incinerator burning, were rescinded Wednesday by city officials, and the ban will remain in effect until further notice.

In rural areas, residents may burn rubbish in incinerators with a screen cover, but no campfire permits are being issued, according to the forestry service.

"However, we suggest any necessary burning be done in the early morning, preferably with a hose handy," the forestry men stated.

Comox Waits For Big Day

COMOX—The last details of the Comox Day and centennial celebrations have been completed, and the town is in a state of expectancy.

Lions Club members have taken an active part in the many activities this year and announced that in addition to the best-of-a-bun barbecue planned from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. on Aug. 16 they will also have corn on the cob.

The fun has already started as store clerks wear old-fashioned costumes and children enjoy rides at the shopping centre.

The first of the actual events gets under way Friday Aug. 11 with a decorated doll buggy contest for children under eight. The same evening the historical display will be opened.

This will be open for public viewing daily for the six days of the celebrations.

Saturday starts with a parade expected to be the biggest ever for Comox.

A Comox Day Queen will be crowned and the rest of the day given over to sports events of every kind, food, food and more food, water events, a fishing derby which does not close until 10 p.m. Sunday, and on Saturday night the sunset ceremony on Comox Avenue.

Sunday a sports car rally, a dog show and a horse show will provide more entertainment.

Bingo players get their chance on Monday when a car bingo will be held at Village Park.

The park will also be the scene of a concert on Tuesday when the centennial choir entertains.

Wednesday, the close of the fun, is another big day ending with a fireworks display, which will be fired from a barge in Comox Bay affording residents of Royston and Courtenay a view as well as Comox people.

The scene will be a park where the barbecue will follow the big air show slated for 5 p.m.

The same night the Sea Cadet band will play, there will be a talent contest and then the fireworks.

Thetis Bid Accepted

The Victoria Pile Driving Company has been awarded a $30,772 federal government contract to repair a 4,800-square-foot wharf and float at Thetis Island, 15 miles southeast of Nanaimo.

Aussie Golfers Hot, Cool Canada's Chances

By JIM TANG

An edge on the greens was the big factor yesterday as Australia, already almost certainly out of championship contention, prevented Canada from taking the lead in the Commonwealth Matches at the Victoria Golf Club by scoring a 5-4 victory.

It left Canada, Wednesday winner over South Africa, tied for third place with South Africa and Australia, who have lost two of the three matches they have played.

In front with three points from two matches are Great Britain and New Zealand.

On a day when a stiff south-westerly let golfers new to the Oak Bay links know just what was meant by the wind factor, they had so often heard discussed, the Canadian team came up almost as cool as the spectators who had left their sweaters at home.

With the exception of Wayne Vollmer, new to international team competition, the Canadians lacked consistency and, as non-playing captain Phil Farley said, appeared to be playing defensively.

But the difference at the finish came on the greens, where the Canadians missed.

Today's matches: Canada vs. New Zealand; Great Britain vs. South Africa.

some key putts and where the Australians had two or three operations keeping pressure on by using only one stroke.

NEEDED FOUR WINS

Failure in the three Scotch foursomes, overcome against South Africa proved costly yesterday. Canada again won only one but this time couldn't get the necessary four singles wins, settling for three.

Gary Cowan, who followed his brilliant opening performance on Wednesday with what was for him ordinary golf, and Keith Alexander lost their foursomes to Kevin Donohoe and Kevin Hartley, 3 and 2, with a big factor being the fact that Alexander was not putting well.

Then Nick Westlock and Johnny Johnston took a 1-up defeat from Dennis Bell and Victor Bulgin with the swing here in putts missed by Johnston on the 15th, 16th and 17th holes.

THREE BIG ONES

Westlock, who didn't go his best off the tee in this match, put Johnston within six feet on the three holes and Johnston failed to can one.

"Had we got two of those putts we would have won the match," Farley said.

Doug Silverberg and Vollmer combined well and didn't have the putting problems of their teammates as they completed the foursomes play with a 5 and 4 win over Phil Billings and Bill Britten.

BEST AGAINST BEST

Donohoe, known as the "giant killer" of the Australian team and at his best against the best, compounded the Canadian comeback problem by racing away to a big lead over Cowan in the first singles match.

Ahead by four holes after six, Donohoe never lost control of his match as he put and kept the pressure on with some superb putting.

With Silverberg five holes in arrears at the time Alexander stepped up to the 12th tee only two holes back, Canadian hopes rested with the slender Calgarian.

But they dimmed considerably when Alexander three-putted after both he and Billings just made the front of the big green, missing from about seven feet after Billings had canned a slightly longer putt.

With Cowan in a rather hopeless situation starting the back nine, the Canadians knew they had to win four of the five remaining singles.

Westlock, an eventual 4 and 3 winner, was ahead of Hartley by a comfortable margin and Johnston was leading Britten and Vollmer was ahead of Bulgin.

CRITICAL POINT

That meant as play reached the 13th green that either Alexander would have to beat Billings or Silverberg had to measure Bell if Canada was to get the two points, provided, of course, that Johnston and Vollmer held their heads.

Alexander, recent winner of the Alberta Open, made a great try to rally. He won the 14th, saved a half on the 15th with a long putt and on the 16th by getting his par four after putting his approach on the top of the bunker at the back of the green.

But the putt he missed on 13 kept pressure off Billings, who got another half at 17 to end it, 2 and 1.

That was it. Johnston and Volmer did win their matches and Silverberg lost although he did take a run at Bell to be only two down after 14.

AUSTRALIA VS. CANADA 4 (Foursomes)

Kevin Donohoe and Kevin Hartley defeated Gary Cowan and Keith Alexander, 3 and 2. Dennis Bell and Victor Bulgin defeated Nick Westlock and Johnny Johnston, 1 up. Phil Billings and Wayne Vollmer were defeated by Doug Silverberg and Wayne Vollmer, 3 and 4.

(Singles)

Donohoe defeated Cowan, 4 and 3. Hartley defeated Westlock, 4 and 3. Bell defeated Alexander, 2 and 1. Britten defeated Johnston, 2 and 1. Bulgin defeated Vollmer, 3 and 2. Silverberg defeated Silverberg, 3 and 2.

The next Commonwealth Golf tournament will be held in Auckland, New Zealand, in October, 1971. It was announced Thursday.

Bruce Forbes, co-chairman of the Commonwealth matches being played at the Victoria Golf Club this week, said the New Zealand golf council's invitation had been accepted by the captain of this year's team.

It was now a matter of the decision being ratified by the various golf associations.

The matches will be played at the Auckland Golf Club's course, a par 71 layout covering 6,335 yards.

Boyer's Home Run Wins for Chisox

Veteran-infielder Ken Boyer continued to earn his hefty salary for Chicago White Sox last night.

He delivered an eight-inning home run which defeated Detroit's pressing Tigers, increased the Sox' lead in the American League to two games and kept general manager Ed Short feeling he had made a real strike when he obtained

Boyer from New York Mets in a waiver deal.

Defeat dropped the Tigers into fourth place, three games away and a half-game behind

Minnesota Twins, who took Washington Senators, 5-0, behind the hitting of Bob Allison and Jim Perry.

Perry pitched a five-inning and Allison batted in three runs with two homers and a double after Barry Moore had retired the first 11 Twins he faced and had a one-hitter in the fifth inning.

Next Golf In Auckland

The next Commonwealth Golf tournament will be held in Auckland, New Zealand, in October, 1971. It was announced Thursday.

Bruce Forbes, co-chairman of the Commonwealth matches being played at the Victoria Golf Club this week, said the New Zealand golf council's invitation had been accepted by the captain of this year's team.

It was now a matter of the decision being ratified by the various golf associations.

The matches will be played at the Auckland Golf Club's course, a par 71 layout covering 6,335 yards.

Boyer's Home Run Wins for Chisox

Veteran-infielder Ken Boyer continued to earn his hefty salary for Chicago White Sox last night.

He delivered an eight-inning home run which defeated Detroit's pressing Tigers, increased the Sox' lead in the American League to two games and kept general manager Ed Short feeling he had made a real strike when he obtained

Boyer from New York Mets in a waiver deal.

Defeat dropped the Tigers into fourth place, three games away and a half-game behind

Minnesota Twins, who took Washington Senators, 5-0, behind the hitting of Bob Allison and Jim Perry.

Perry pitched a five-inning and Allison batted in three runs with two homers and a double after Barry Moore had retired the first 11 Twins he faced and had a one-hitter in the fifth inning.

CUBS GAIN TOO

Chicago's other team also gained yesterday, picking up a game on the St. Louis Cardinals in the National League.

McKnight Claims Trustees Not Telling Whole Story

'Let Province Pay for College'

By MARY TAYLOR
PORT ALBERNI — "If the province thinks an Island regional college is necessary, let the province pay for it," said Ald. George McKnight of Port Alberni.

He urged voters turn down the Sept. 30 vote, which covers the Island north of the Malahat. He said he considered it his duty as an alderman to fight "those who are recommending a yes vote."

This would impose new and higher education taxes on homeowners and businesses, said the alderman. Ald. McKnight claimed he is not opposed to expansion of education facilities, just to the method of financing.

He said the Education Department can build the college the way it built Simon Fraser University.

"They did not conduct a plebiscite for that nor did they load the cost onto the home owners."

While the local school board is recommending a yes vote on the plebiscite, it is not giving the whole story, the alderman claims.

"We are not being asked to endorse just another school bylaw proposal. We are being asked to endorse a brand new policy."

"That is, for the first time we are being asked to assume a large share of the cost of education above the high school level, and that this is to be added to the already high cost of education as direct taxation on our homes."

The idea that it is immaterial whether the college is paid for as part of income tax or as taxes on property is incorrect, Ald. McKnight asserted.

"There is a great deal of difference. Many of those who would have to pay substantial amounts toward the college in taxes on their homes do not have sufficient income to pay any income tax at all, that is the difference," Ald. McKnight said.

The idea that costs will be a mere $5 to $10 a year is also misleading, the alderman said.

"My information is that Selkirk College at Castlegar costs ratepayers there three mills now, and will soon rise to five as dormitories and operating, as well as other costs, are reflected in school taxation," he continued.

"If regional college costs were to reach five mills here, it would add about $25 to $50 to our yearly municipal taxes as property owners."

Ald. McKnight also took the school board to task for high costs of the controversial Eric Dunn School.

"Some of this majority of our local school board (who are recommending the yes vote) are the same people who were responsible for the Eric Dunn School.

"This was a costly business. The school was built on such an elaborate plan that all of the shareable money was used up without providing a gymnasium."

"As a consequence we will still have to build a gym and bear the full cost, without any financial aid from the provincial government, because the school board has already used up all the money in the provincial grant for that school."

Rejection of that portion of last December's plebiscite covering construction of a gym at E. J. Dunn is indicative of the ratepayers' attitude, Ald. McKnight said.

School Officials Will Import Top Talent In Fight for Island Regional College

By ARNOLD OLSON

NANAIMO — Most of the knowledge B.C. has gained about the theory and operation of regional colleges, will be concentrated in Parksville Aug. 25.

Men who have pioneered the regional college concept will share their experience with Island school trustees, in preparation for the crucial September referendum on an Island college.

TOP MAN

One of the men coming to Parksville is Dr. Lorne Downey, J. B. Litch, high school education chief for Nanaimo, described Dr. Downey as "second only to Dr. Leonard Marsh in being one of the most knowledgeable people in B.C. in the field of regional colleges."

HIGH SCHOOLS

Dr. Downey is the head of research for high school education at University of British Columbia, and as such possibly knows more about what is needed in education than any other person.

Marsh

He has been an adviser for the curriculum in the only regional college in B.C., Selkirk College. He has also been similarly connected with the one in Prince George, which has just recently been approved, and for the proposed one in Osoyoos.

Another leader in the field is Frank Beinder who recently published information gathered in pamphlet form, which is being read throughout B.C.

SELKIRK PLAN

He gains his knowledge through intimate connection with the development of Selkirk College.

"The only other man not directly connected with education who can approach his knowledge is Dr. Roy McMillan of Nanaimo," said Mr. Litch.

Both these men gained their knowledge through their studies of methods used in California and Washington and studies of reports by educators.

FAST PRESIDENT

Mr. Beinder is the past president of B.C. School Trustees, and Dr. McMillan has recently been elected president of the B.C. Association of Community Colleges.

Frank Slat, Nanaimo high school vice-principal, said "The only regional college experts in

Litch

B.C. are those who have become so through their studies and work."

Mr. Slat himself has become one of the leaders through his studies under the leading authority on regional colleges in the world, Dr. Lamar Johnson of U.C.L.A.

NOT AVAILABLE

He was one of the first placed on the list, but was taken off when a member of his staff said he would not be available for the meeting.

Dr. McMillan said "Since that time a newcomer to the Island has started a furor which has done irreparable damage to the progress of the Sept. 30 vote."

SOLES NOT BEST

Dr. McMillan said in the future there have been erroneous claims that Mr. Soles is the only person who can tell the public about regional colleges.

"Dr. Bert Wales, head of Vancouver City College, has had more experience in a larger institute."

ATTACK HIT

Dr. McMillan said he resents a recent attack on the qualifications of speaker at the panel.

He pointed out Selkirk College is smaller now than the Island college will be at its birth.

MARSH REPORT

Dr. Marsh has transferred from his sociological research in the College of Education in UBC, and was hired by the school districts north of the Malahat to study whether a college was needed or not.

His report is the basis of the plans for the proposed college. The comprehensive studies done on the Island, and in the three states where colleges have been operating, have indicated everything from the site and size of the college, to its future expansion with a branch campus to be built near the Courtenay-Campbell River area.

ANOTHER LOOK

When controversy developed over the report, a second study was instituted, which echoed the Marsh Report.

Jack Whittam, college advisory committee chairman, said the men asked to speak in Parksville are "all authorities in their fields, pertaining to regional colleges."

He gave as a prime example John L. Kidd, the architect who built Selkirk college.

FAILURES, TOO

"What better man to tell us where the building succeeds or fails?" he said.

"We want to know the failures too, and benefit by that knowledge," he added.

Larry Thomas, a member of the advisory committee, said "We did not want to spread the campaign over too long a period."

FRESH VIEWS

He said with any good publicity campaign, the greatest surge should be just before the event, so that all knowledge is fresh, and accurate.

"We want the most, and most accurate information available just before the plebiscite, so people know exactly what they're voting for," he said.

YES VOTE

Sept. 30 a plebiscite will ask only one question "Do you want your school district to belong to the regional college district?"

After this, a regional college district will be formed from those districts which have indicated "yes," and a regional college board will be formed, after which a referendum will be held.

If the referendum is passed, and the people indicate they are willing to pay an extra $1 for every $1,000 assessment, the college will be built.

Canadian Union Hits International:

Seeds of Disunity Sown

'Stand, Prepare To Receive Boarding Party'

GANGES—The RCMP boat Sidney chased and caught four RCN auxiliary training vessels as they were leaving harbor.

On board the small craft, on a routine Gull Islands training cruise for sea cadets, were nine stolen flags. Unaware to naval officers in charge, the teen-age sea cadets took the flags "as souvenirs" in the early hours of Tuesday morning from store fronts and Centennial Square in Ganges Harbor.

Ganges RCMP were called out by the businessmen, and they traced the flags to the waterfront, where the dock was deserted.

The four visiting vessels were heading for the harbor entrance, so the Sidney gave chase. "It must have put a real fright up the young culprits," said a police spokesman, "to see us hard on their wake."

Explaining the position to RCN officers, who quickly found the missing goods, police recovered the flags and triumphantly returned to harbor.

The boats continued on their way, with half-a-dozen very embarrassed sea cadets.

Capt. Dennis Ryan of the RCN public relations department said Thursday night he did not know the commanding officer attached to the cadets in question, but if any disciplinary action was taken, it would be by their commander.

Island Scene

Opt. D. B. Felker is retiring from the RCMP at Campbell River, after serving as a police officer throughout B.C. for 25 years. Opt. Felker joined the B.C. Provincial Police Force in Victoria in 1942. He served as a constable at Burnaby, Ladysmith and Shawigan Lake until he and his wife and two children moved to Campbell River eight years ago. A young honeymoon couple, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Bishop of Bragg Creek, Alta., who were chosen as tourists of the week in Duncan, have written to Chamber of Commerce secretary Art Stevenson, saying, "Thank you so much, we enjoyed our stay at Duncan thoroughly and will never forget it. Everyone was wonderful to us."

GOLD RIVER — The Canadian pulp union has accused its International rival of trying to sabotage its battle for the workers.

Canadian union president Orville Braaten said since Local 11 won bargaining rights at Gold River, Pulp-Sulphite has "continued its program of disunity propaganda."

He called "Actions of the International at Gold River must certainly bring much aid and comfort to the Talmis Company."

In a press report earlier, the Pulp-Sulphite union claimed workers at Gold River are already unhappy with the Canadian union.

The International said workers are concerned about strike benefits, lack of a collective agreement, and a rumored Canadian union's legal bills.

Unhappy with Report

Mr. Braaten said several meetings were held with the membership to draft a negotiating agenda.

"We met eight days in direct negotiations with Talmis Company discussing our entire agenda."

"We have concluded our meetings with Conciliation Officer George Carmichael."

Mr. Carmichael's report has been handed in, and Mr. Braaten has indicated he is unhappy with it.

He said members will find the report doesn't go much beyond the company's negotiating position.

Port Alberni Trouble

The Canadian union gave its own list of questions to put to the International, and claimed International locals are starting to ask the same questions:

"Why have Pulp-Sulphite locals never been given an accounting of union money spent by (an organizer) in the past 15 months?"

"Why are there so many outstanding grievances at the Port Alberni mill?"

"Why are Ocean Falls members dissatisfied with support they received from the International, when workers at Ocean Falls stayed off the job?"

"Why has their been trouble in getting a full state of local union officers elected in Ocean Falls?"

"Why were some Pulp-Sulphite members allowed to work

studies under the leading authority on regional colleges in the world, Dr. Lamar Johnson of U.C.L.A.

He was one of the first placed on the list, but was taken off when a member of his staff said he would not be available for the meeting.

Dr. McMillan said "Since that time a newcomer to the Island has started a furor which has done irreparable damage to the progress of the Sept. 30 vote."

Dr. McMillan said in the future there have been erroneous claims that Mr. Soles is the only person who can tell the public about regional colleges.

If the referendum is passed, and the people indicate they are willing to pay an extra $1 for every $1,000 assessment, the college will be built.

The report recommended:

● There should be developed immediately the necessary criteria for cost-sharing, tax incentives and other fiscal arrangements.

● Better use should be made of existing technology and research data.

Pollution Report Demands New Cost-Sharing Plan

PORT ALBERNI — Mayor Les Hammer said immediate action on pollution has been demanded in a special report to the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities.

Mayor Hammer has just

● There should be federal-provincial co-operation and consultation to establish national minimum standards for air and effluent.

● Financing of sewage treatment projects must be improved.

● Grants should be made to industry for industrial pollution control works and projects.

● Provincial legislation should be enacted to give grants matching those of NHA, regarding sewage treatment projects.

● There should be encouragement, assistance and financing of intensive laboratory and field research by both levels of senior government.

● Better and more systematic dissemination of information is needed.

Another subject at the meeting which interested the mayor was the housing problem.

Lack of housing has caused some concern in Port Alberni recently.

Mayor Hammer said the meeting decided these steps are needed to meet the housing shortage:

● Decrease down payments by increasing maximum loans allowable for private dwellings and increasing the period of the loan.

● Ottawa should amend the national housing legislation to provide for mortgage and financing for co-operative housing in multiple-dwelling developments.

● The federal government should establish higher ceilings on NHA loans on old homes.

● The provinces should assume "their constitutional responsibility" in the housing field, and exercise leadership in the setting of goals.

Another 12 acres go up in flames on Malahat

Forest Fire On Malahat Flares Anew

The B.C. Forest Service rushed every available man to fight a flareup of a week-old forest fire on the Malahat Wednesday night.

A Canadair water bomber from Patricia Bay Airport arrived on the scene at 6 p.m. and started making drops every seven minutes.

Six ground tankers had arrived by 6:30 p.m., and the flying tanker knocked the fire down enough to enable ground crews to move into fighting position.

12 MORE ACRES

The fire had spread over a 12-acre area by nightfall, boosting to 22 acres the total area burned there since the first outbreak — believed caused by an arsonist — occurred on Aug. 3.

The blaze was on the water side of the Trans-Canada Highway, about half a mile south of the Dutch Latch Restaurant.

DAY ROOM

Forest Service officials were hopeful it would be contained by morning. They said some men patrolling a three-day-old Sooke fire were sent to the new outbreak.

Fire touching on a side hill covered with under-dry brush was believed to have caused Wednesday's flareup.

Forest fires "never really go out until we get a heavy rain," one firefighter said.

High temperatures expected for the next few days may increase the hazard in the lower Vancouver Island and Lower Mainland areas of B.C., the Forest Service reported.

The fire situation in provincial forests is "relatively good," a spokesman for the Forest Service said.

Hazards range from moderate to high, he said.

200 BURNING

There are 260 forest fires still burning, with 117 of them in the Kamloops forest district. Nelson had 92 fires and Vancouver, Prince Rupert and Prince George had 28, 16 and seven respectively. Vancouver district includes Vancouver Island.

Of the 1,268 men on the fire lines, 851 are employed in the Nelson district.

A fire at Castlegar which destroyed a mill Tuesday and now covers 4,000 acres is "still troublesome."

HARD TO CONTROL

It is burning over rocky ground and difficult to control or even contain.

Earlier this week a suspension of campfire permits was lifted in the Kamloops district, but the suspension remains in effect in the Vancouver and Nelson districts. The suspension is in addition to a recreational closure in effect in a large section of the Nelson district.

Youth Week: A Happening

Everything will be happening — including a happening — during the Victoria Youth Council's Youth Week Aug. 20 to 27.

But mostly the YVC wants to foster communication between young people and older ones. YVC spokesman Ruth Kelly said a film festival on Thursday; a "happening" — spontaneous youth gathering — Friday in Bastion Square, followed by a dance; a Saturday "light show;" and a Sunday love-in at Beacon Hill Park, followed by a family dialogue between parents and teenagers.

COMBINED DEAL

The event will be "a combined effort of the young people of Victoria to express their sincere desire to improve the community in which they live," said Miss Kelly.

At its new temporary office at the University of Victoria, the YVC is inviting other teen-age groups in the capital region to participate in Youth Week.

She invited inquiries through the YVC's new phone number 477-3511.

Tentatively planned so far are a downtown parade and a dance in Centennial Square Sunday the 20th; a televised discussion

Monday; a public meeting at the YMCA on Tuesday the 22nd; a film festival on Thursday; a "happening" — spontaneous youth gathering — Friday in Bastion Square, followed by a dance; a Saturday "light show;" and a Sunday love-in at Beacon Hill Park, followed by a family dialogue between parents and teenagers.

BROOM DAY
Thursday the 24th is also planned as a doubleheader Broom Day event, when teenagers will clean up two areas in Victoria.

Times and places of most Youth Week events haven't yet been fixed.

"We hope Youth Week will be an outstretching — a positive thing," she said.

Doctors Ask:

What About Emergency?

By JOHN MATTERS

The embattled operating engineers should assure the public that hospitals' emergency services won't be terminated by their strike action, the Victoria Medical Society said Wednesday night.

"So far, our mood has been one of detachment—the dispute is between the engineers and the hospitals — but we are concerned there has been no assurance that emergency service will not cease," said a spokesman for the doctors.

"We find it difficult to believe the situation could go to such an extreme but the public should be reassured."

The union has served notice on five other Lower Mainland and Victoria hospitals in a bid to get parity between rates for third-class engineers.

They are Vancouver General, St. Paul's, Burnaby General and Royal Jubilee and St. Joseph's in Victoria.

The union on Wednesday mailed Nanaimo General Hospital a 48-hour strike notice. It means that at any time after Friday morning, it will be legally able to strike that hospital as well.

Among other duties, the engineers operate steam heating and refrigeration facilities.

Meanwhile, it was learned the Hospital Insurance Service, is growing concerned about the situation. It does not intend to intervene, however, because each hospital is autonomous in its dealings with employees.

The doctors' statement came after officials of the International Union of Operating Engineers, whose members walked out of Royal Columbian Hospital at New Westminster Wednesday, said the strike will spread to other hospitals unless speedy settlement is reached.

Royal Columbian has banned all but urgent surgery and has restricted admissions in emergency cases only.

Christening Set For City-Built Tuna Fishboats

Two $2,250,000 tuna fishing vessels will be christened at noon Saturday at Yarrows Ltd.

Champagne will be splashed on their bows by Mrs. Emerson H. Gennis, wife of the president of Canadian Tuna Co. Ltd.

The 200-foot vessels, first of their kind to be built in Victoria, are two of a fleet of five that will form Canada's first wholly integrated tuna cannery in St. Stephen, N.B.

The first ship ready, the Atlantic Gairdner, will begin sea trials in a few weeks, while the Atlantic Gennis will not be ready for the sea until the end of the year.

The Gairdner will eventually head for the choice tuna grounds off western Africa. Each of the Dutch-designed ships carries a helicopter for spotting tuna shoals and has holds with new fast-freezing fish storage that can hold 1,000 tons.

Mt. Tolmie Burns Five Hours

A fire on the southwest side of Mount Tolmie took more than five hours to put out Wednesday as it burned stubbornly above the sand pits. Saanich firemen needed 1,600 feet of hose to quell the blaze that burned two acres. The alarm was turned in at 1:31 p.m. and mopping up was completed by 7 p.m.

Water Ban Planned On Monday

By A. H. MURPHY

If there is no rain before Monday, a six-day-a-week ban on lawn sprinklers will be imposed in Victoria. Forecasters Thursday night offered no early promise of rain, although a trace fell in parts of Greater Victoria earlier in the afternoon.

British Post Seized

HONG KONG (Reuters) — Hong Kong's border with China was closed today except for one crossing point after Chinese workers occupied one of the British colony's police border posts overnight, it was announced here.

The announcement said the Chinese held a government officer, a British army officer and several policemen in the Man Kam To post for most of the night, but the situation was resolved without bloodshed.

CHINESE SIDE

A group of workers from the Chinese side of the border broke into the remote police post at midnight Thursday night and snatched weapons from British soldiers, a spokesman here said.

The district officer was forced to sign a document as a man stood over him with an axe and another officer had a knife at his back, he said.

The army officer had a pistol aimed at him, he said.

NO BLOODSHED

But the spokesman said the critical situation at the border post was resolved without bloodshed and the seized weapons were handed back early this morning.

A large force of British troops surrounded the area.

'French-Canadians Want to Be Freed'

By CARL MOLLINS
The Canadian Press

President de Gaulle said Thursday French-speaking Canadians have shown unmistakably that they want to be freed — but whether he meant politically or culturally free was not clear.

Critics of his "Quebec libre" speech in Montreal last month are promoting the decline of France, de Gaulle said in a television speech to the nation Thursday night. (See Page 5.)

De Gaulle's reference to French-speaking Canadians featured the word "affranchissement" — emancipation — but did not spell out whether he meant political independence or freedom to develop their own cultural heritage.

The reference to his Canadian visit came when he said he had "stupefied and outraged the apostles of decline" ("stupéfie et outragé les apôtres du déclin").

Team Edged 5-4

Australia Checks Canada's Bid

Canada's run at taking the fourth Commonwealth golf tournament faltered at the Victoria Golf Club Thursday when Canada was beaten by Australia.

The Australians won by five matches to four to record their first victory in three days. (See also Page 14.)

New Zealand and Great Britain are tied for the lead with three points from a win and a draw. New Zealand defeated South Africa, 5-4, in Thursday's other match.

Canada has won points with a win and a loss, the same record as South Africa. Australia has two points from one win and three losses.

The Canadians had an uphill struggle after they dropped two of the three Scotch foursomes. That meant they had to win four of the six singles—they won three.

Visitor Scores Ace

Stuart Jones, a veteran of 13 appearances for New Zealand, scored the 223-yard seventh in his afternoon single against Comrie Du Toit.

The perfect shot came after the South African had put a four iron three feet from the cup. Jones hit a three iron which bounced twice before going in.

Du Toit, who got his two, said afterwards he thought his shot might have worried Jones to the extent that Jones might have missed the green.

It was Jones' sixth ace, but his first since 1958.

The tournament, which finishes Saturday, continues at 8:30 a.m. today with Canada meeting New Zealand and South Africa playing Great Britain.

Rebel Tells Mobutu To Quit Presidency

BUJUMBURA, Burundi (CP) — A Congolese colonel serving with the white mercenary force at the Congo town of Bukavu Thursday proclaimed a government of public safety and called on President Joseph Mobutu to resign.

Col. Leonid Monga, named last year by former Congolese premier Moise Tshombe as his chief of staff in exile, said the aim of his government was to end civil war in the Congo.

Meanwhile, Belgian-born Maj. Jean Schramme, head of the mercenaries, gave Mobutu a 10-day ultimatum to discuss with him the future of the Congo.

MARCH ON CAPITAL? Otherwise, he hinted in an interview with The Associated Press, he would possibly consider marching on the Congo capital, Kinshasa.

Schramme gave the interview at the general headquarters of his 500-man army on the first floor of the Bukavu Residence Hotel.

He told an Associated Press correspondent: "UP TO MOBUTU"

"It is up to Mobutu now to contact us, to make the first steps."

"We consider that he is wrong. I count 10 days from now for Mobutu's answer."

"After that date, I'll take over measures of a greater scope and who knows, I could even go as far as launching an offensive against Kinshasa."

However, he continued: "But I add that as soon as my men, I mean all my men, will be in safety, I shall definitely leave the Congo."

In Kinshasa the government categorically rejected any possibility of negotiating with the mercenaries.

A government radio broadcast said Mobutu would never "lower himself to discussions with foreign gangsters trying to

ST. JOSEPH'S MONDAY?

Varnish Toll Passes 100 In Madras

MADRAS (Reuters) — The death toll from a varnish-drinking spree in the prohibitionist Indian state of Madras grew to 103 Thursday.

Officials said the dead were from among 624 persons admitted to hospitals with their lungs paralyzed by the varnish in bootleg liquor.

Operating engineers will walk off their jobs at 8 a.m. Monday at St. Joseph's Hospital unless progress is made today toward a settlement of their dispute, a union official said Thursday night.

Ed Callan, international representative of the International Union of Operating Engineers, said strike action hinges on the outcome of a conciliation meeting today in Vancouver.

Labour Minister, Peterson Thursday stalled a scheduled strike at St. Paul's Hospital in Vancouver this morning by appointing Jack Sherlock of the labor department to conciliate in the hospitals' dispute.

BOTH SIDES

Mr. Sherlock is meeting both sides in an effort to avert the spread of a power plant strike which hit Royal Columbian Hospital in New Westminster two days ago.

"If there is no settlement following the meeting there will be a strike on St. Paul's Hospital forthwith," Mr. Callan said.

Mr. Callan brushed aside various warnings and pleas by government and medical agencies involved in the dispute.

WARNING COMMENT

"B.C. Hospitals' Association should take note," he said of a warning from the labor minister that both the union and hospitals reach a speedy solution or face legislative action at the next session of the legislature, which begins in January.

To a plea from the Victoria Medical Society Wednesday night that operating engineers give assurance that "emergency service will not cease," Mr. Callan replied:

"Everything in a hospital is emergency. We might as well say we'll never strike as say we'll offer emergency service."

SINCE OCTOBER

To a suggestion by a Victoria alderman that the union's strike methods corresponded to "taking a cane from a blind man," Mr. Callan retorted:

"He is speaking without knowledge of the situation."

Mr. Callan said his union has been trying since October to get parity between the rates of the third class engineers in the larger hospitals in the province.

BCHA BLAMED

He blamed BCHA negotiation attitudes for the dispute.

"If the hospitals were able to negotiate on their own there would be no dispute," he said.

He said both Royal Jubilee Hospital in Victoria and Prince George General Hospital had

Biafrans Drive To West

LAGOS (Reuters) — Biafran forces, now controlling Nigeria's Midwestern Region after a lightning takeover, were moving towards the boundary of the Western Region, reports reaching here said Thursday.

Meanwhile federal reinforcements were reported preparing to try to stem the thrust by the troops from the breakaway former Eastern Region.

A federal spokesman conceded Thursday that Midwestern army mutineers and Biafran forces under Brig. Victor Banjo have seized the whole of the Midwestern Region.

He said Biafran troops were moving by road from the captured Midwestern capital of Benin to the Western Region border 45 miles away.

Radio Biafra, monitored here, said a new government was being formed in Benin and a new political program drawn up.

Cheering, chanting crowds paraded through Enugu, capital of the breakaway region following announcement of the Biafran victory.

Lt. Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu, who led Biafra away from the Nigerian federation May 30, was greeted by cheering crowds shouting "power, power."

Key to Better World

No Machine Will Replace Modern Woman

By KARIN MOSER

MONTREAL (CP) — French author Marie Perle said Thursday modern woman holds the key to a better world in her hands and no machine will ever be able to replace her.

Mrs. Perle, whose book, Le Maitre de Femme—The Art of Being a Woman—has been translated into many languages, made the statement during a lecture at Expo 67's Hospitality pavilion.

About 200 women crowded into the auditorium to hear the second in a three-day series of lectures.

"The modern woman is about 46 years old," said Mrs. Perle. "She is mature, fashionably dressed and her children have most probably grown up."

"Thus, she finds herself ready to lead a second life—a life which is a gift of the modern world, thanks to advanced medicines which preserve her health, fashions which preserve her figure and makeup which allow her to retain a youthful appearance."

"Armed with these assets and no longer absolutely required in the home, she carries a big sign which says she is looking for work."

Once she is in the working world, the modern woman is somewhat taken back by the changes which have occurred and with which she is unfamiliar. At the same time she wants to be treated with equality and wants her femininity to be respected by the male members but some conflicts arise.

"So the woman puts on a mask to please the men who see her with the glasses of their grandfathers, while at the same time she carries a shield which makes her inaccessible and forbidding to her companion."

"She must find her proper place in the modern world—not by copying men but by offering what men cannot offer, a flexibility which makes life fuller and happier and a deep vision which is sensitive to the realities of daily living and human beings."

Listing Munition-Laden Ship Adrift in Fog

KODIAK, Alaska (AP) — A wartime Liberty ship, unmanned and laden with 2,000 tons of explosives, was adrift on her side in dense fog off the Aleutian Islands Thursday.

The navy kept a close radar

A late report said the ship has sunk in 3,000 feet.

watch on the drifting SS Robert L. Stevenson, warning all shipping away, and said there was no danger of a surface explosion.

The Stevenson and her cargo of obsolete military munitions was to have been sunk and the explosives detonated hydrostatically as part of an experiment to develop techniques to detect and locate underground nuclear explosions.

The explosives were to have been detonated at the 4,000 foot level approximately 32 miles off Anchorage, but the Stevenson has drifted 10 miles northwest from the planned blast point.

In Juneau, Maj. Gen. C. F. Neerason, state adjutant general, was advised that when the Stevenson's sea cocks were opened Thursday and the tow line cut a dense fog moved in and the ship rolled on her side.

Heat and Rain Records Set at Mainland Points

VANCOUVER (CP) — The temperature hit 82 degrees in Vancouver Thursday, breaking by one degree the previous high for Aug. 10, set in 1939. Prince Rupert, on the northern B.C. coast, set a rainfall record with 3.59 inches.
